Ike Flies to Big Three Meetings in Bermuda

Dean Insists POWs To Go Free Jan. 22

Only Peace Conference Can Change Decision, Communists Are Told

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean told the Communists today that unrepatriated war prisoners will be freed Jan. 22 unless a peace conference decides some other course "and no human hand or mind or debate can change it."

"We are never going to agree, under any circumstances, to a change in that date," he declared.

Three-Hour Session

Dean and Communist diplomats huddled for almost three hours on plans for a peace conference while a few miles away 30 more South Korean war prisoners unanimously rejected pleas to return home.

Allied persuaders in three days have talked to 90 South Koreans who chose life under the Communists and not one has changed his mind.

ROK officers whisked through 30 interviews before noon today. The U.N. Command asked to interview 40 prisoners Saturday. The repatriation commission said the request for an extra 10 was filed too late, but tonight the commission approved it.

Recess Until Monday

The preliminary peace talks are in recess until Monday. Dean asked that a Saturday session be called off because he will be in Seoul for conferences with South Korea's President Syngman Rhee.

He refused to divulge the subject of the talks and would not comment on rumored differences between the U.N. Command and the South Korean government over plans for a peace conference.

The spokesman for 17 Allied nations which fought in Korea spelled out their position on unrepatriated prisoners after the Communists heatedly insisted that the POWs could "never be released" until a peace conference decides their fate.

Reds Stalling

Dean said the Reds appeared to be trying to block a peace conference in an attempt to hold in indefinite captivity 22,600 Korean and Chinese war prisoners who have refused to go back to Communist rule.

He reiterated that the Korean armistice provides that unrepatriated prisoners "be released to civilian status" Jan. 22—120 days after they were turned over to custody of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Dean told newsmen "some small progress" was made during the 2 hour 55 minute session. The Communists agreed to incorporate in their plans for a peace conference a clause limiting the debating rights of nonvoting neutral nations.

The Allies have contended that Red insistence on giving neutrals the right of unlimited debate would permit nonbelligerents to tie up the conference indefinitely.

Egyptians Fire On U.S. Ship in Mediterranean

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The American Embassy announced today that the 7,255-ton American freighter Albion had reported Egyptian shore batteries fired on her as she tried to deliver 9,600 tons of wheat to Jordan for Arab refugees from Palestine.

The attack reportedly occurred yesterday in the Gulf of Aqaba, east of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula. The Albion was bound for the Jordan port of Aqaba, at the head of the gulf.

The ship's first report made no mention of casualties or damage to the vessel.

It appeared likely that the Egyptian gunners had believed the ship was destined for Elath, an Israeli port also at the head of the gulf to which considerable traffic is routed to circumvent Arab Egypt's ban on Israel-bound shipping passing through the Suez Canal.

The Albion reported she had pulled out of the firing area but was making another attempt today to reach Aqaba.

The embassy said it made "urgent representations" to the Egyptian government and that President Mohammed Naguib's regime had given "assurances that action would be taken to facilitate the ship's passage through Aqaba Gulf."

The Egyptians also promised an immediate investigation into the reported shooting.

Disprove War Crimes Charge, Russians Told

Senator Offers Reds Chance To Show No Atrocities Committed

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Potter (R-Mich) today challenged Andrei Vishinsky and his associates to try to disprove Korean veterans' accounts of brutal, bestial atrocities.

Potter, sitting as a one-man Senate investigations subcommittee, has heard over a dozen such accounts in the past two days. On call today were 10 more witnesses to add details to the grim recital.

Dares Reds To Deny It

"If these cases are false," Potter said in an interview, "it would be the best possible propaganda in the world for the Communists to prove that. If Vishinsky and the Communists are not afraid of the truth, why do they not ask an impartial United Nations investigation?

"They are afraid of the truth and this gives the lie to Vishinsky's falsifications."

The U.N. General Assembly yesterday approved an American-backed resolution condemning any atrocities and expressing "grave concern" at reports of Red cruelty in Korea. The vote was 42-5. Vishinsky, chief Russian delegate to the U.N., and other Communist spokesmen cried "fake" and "libel."

Testimony Verified

Potter said the sworn testimony already heard here had been verified by Army experts in preparation for possible war crime trials of the Korean and Chinese Communists.

"I don't know what we will do with this evidence now," he said. "Except to let Americans and the world know the true pattern of Communist leadership."

Potter said lucky survivors of Korean atrocities already have proved that there was "pretty much the same pattern in these crimes with Communist officers and leaders murdering Americans or giving orders to do this."

"It was a command decision on the part of the Communists to mistreat our prisoners of war," he said. "These are crimes against man. They would be punishable in any country, with the possible exception of Communist-ruled nations."

Grand Jury Indicts Former U.S. State Department Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—Val R. Lorwin, a former State Department official, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges he falsely denied Communist party membership during a loyalty hearing in December 1950.

The indictment, returned under the false statements statute, accused Lorwin of falsely stating under oath at the loyalty hearing that:

1. He never was a Communist party member.

2. He never carried a Communist party card.

3. He never held a Communist party meeting in his home.

At the time of the hearing, Lorwin was chief of the European section, Division of International Labor, Social and Health Affairs in the State Department.

Lorwin, 46, and no longer with the government, is a native of New York City. The Justice Department said it was unable to supply his present address.

Allies Prepare To Ask Recess For Assembly

Group Will Oppose Adjournment; Wants U.N. To Be Available

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States and its 15 Korean War allies in the United Nations were reported lining up support today for a plan to keep the U. N. Assembly on tap after it closes shop next week. It the could be recalled quickly if new trouble arises over Korea.

Observers predicted the projected call for an indefinite recess rather than outright adjournment would meet opposition on two counts:

Reds Will Object

1. The scheme, springing from Allied feeling that Korea should not be debated while Special Ambassador Arthur Dean is negotiating with the Reds at Panmunjom, is expected to run into Soviet bloc objections. A source close to the Russians said they want the Korean issue discussed here and now on grounds that it is the most vital question before the U. N.

2. The proposal reportedly would provide that the Assembly could be reconvened whenever a majority of the 60 U. N. members deems it necessary. This would collide with a resolution put up by India last night proposing that the Assembly recess until February subject to the call of its president—India's Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit—if the Korean situation warrants.

India Opposes Idea

The Indians are said to oppose the idea of reconvening on the motion of 31 of the U. N.'s 60 members. Some of the Arab-Asian bloc are said to support the Indian stand.

Western sources expressed confidence that the 16-power plan would win approval of the U.N.'s Political Committee, pointing out

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Richland County grand jury is expected to report late today in the investigation of the death of Mrs. Leah Sternbaum.

Mrs. Sternbaum's body was found following a fire here last December. Her husband, Max, said he and his wife were attacked by burglars who set fire to the building.

Congressman Linked With Communists

Rep. Condon Attended Closed Party Meeting, Witness Tells Probers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A House Un-American Activities Committee witness testified yesterday he saw Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.) at a closed Communist meeting in 1948.

Condon, in New Orleans, said he understood the meeting he sat in on was a trade union affair which he and other Democrats attended in behalf of Democratic party candidates. He also denied he was a Communist.

Condon, who was barred for security reasons from witnessing a Nevada atomic test last May, denied that he ever was a Communist.

Admitted Ex-Red

Charles David Blodgett, an admitted ex - Communist, told the committee here he saw Condon at a "closed emergency meeting of Communist party members" at Oakland, Calif., in March or April 1948. The witness testified he did not know whether Condon was a party member, but he had never seen a non-Communist at such a meeting.

Condon at the time was a candidate for the Legislature. He won, and last year was elected to Congress.

Condon said he had thought the Oakland meeting was a trade union affair which he and other Democrats attended in behalf of party candidates. Condon added, "I will put my loyalty and affection for my country and my people against any of the members of the staff of this Un-American Activities Committee who have drummed up these fantastic witnesses."

Denies Charges

From New Orleans, where he is participating in hearings of a House committee, Condon told a San Francisco Chronicle reporter on the telephone:

"I am not and never have been or ever will be a member of the Communist party."

Condon, invited to appear before the Un-American Activities Committee in rebuttal at any time, asserted "this is a Republican committee touring the country to smear Democrats."

Condon said on the House floor last July his exclusion from the atomic test came about because the Atomic Energy Commission "did not fairly evaluate the information concerning me." He charged the ban stemmed from a "rehash of stale political charges" by his Republican opponents, and "hearsay."

Tells of Meeting

Blodgett, an intense, soft-speaking Chicago salesman of 32, testified he saw Condon at a meeting of the Communists' political affairs committees for Alameda and Contra Costa counties, He said the meeting was called to decide whether the Reds would back a primary candidate against Rep. P.

Group To Join in Alert

Civil Defense Unit Here Receives Rescue Truck

Civil Defense workers in Marion have been given a boost by the delivery of a state-owned rescue truck to the 41st Mobile Support group, one of Marion's CD units. The truck is completely equipped to handle any emergency rescue work which might arise.

It arrived just before the local group will participate in a state wide Civil Defense alert. The alert is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, at an undisclosed time.

MAKING DELIVERY of the truck was Lt. Col. William E. Drews, deputy director of the Fourth Area, Ohio Civil Defense Corps, and administative assistant from the state adjutant general's office.

The Fourth Area consists of 23 counties in northwest Ohio including Marion County. Drews has jurisdiction over all 23 counties. Irvain Swartz of Findlay is in charge of the mobile support groups in the area.

The 41st Mobile Support Group here is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. It has a unit of auxiliary police and a rescue team. Auxiliary firemen and Red Cross workers also participate in CD activites here.

IN SUNDAY'S OPERATION, volunteers will assemble at their assigned posts after the alert is sounded to determine how fast the group would be ready to move to a disaster area in case of actual attack.

Radio communications will be maintained between the local groups and Area Headquarters to mark the progress of the volunteers in the area.

NINE CITIES in the state will be theoretically "bombed" Sunday and workers there will go through the motions of rescue operations with the support of mobile teams such as Marion's. Cities to be "bombed" are Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Canton, Akron, Youngstown, Steubenville and Dayton.

All traffic in those cities will be stopped during the practice.

In case of an actual attack, the Marion unit and new truck would be assigned to enter one of the cities in need of rescue operations and help remove civilians to less dangerous locations.

—:—

VOLUNTEERS IN Marion meet once a month for special training courses. Police Captain Clyde H. Hardin is Civil Defense director in the city.

Cost of the new truck was $11,300. It is equipped with all sorts of rescue equipment.

Atop the truck are two ladders, one a 24-foot extension ladder, the

Ohio Probers Ask 5 Be Cited For Contempt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Un-American Activities Commission today sought contempt prosecution for five witnesses who refused to say whether they were Communists at a hearing Oct. 21 at Canton.

Commission Chairman Samuel L. Devine of Columbus said a transcript of testimony at the hearing went to John Rossetti, Stark County prosecutor, with a resolution requesting prosecution.

Devine, a state representative and former FBI agent, identified the five balky witnesses as Paul Bohus, Rose Mladjan, and Olga Dudek Perry all of Canton and LaVerne B. Slagle and Eula A. Cooper, both of Massillon.

Devine said hearings Tuesday and Wednesday in Cleveland concluded public hearings by the commission which turns its work over to Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill after January. The chairman said the commission will submit a report of its work before then to O'Neill, Gov. Frank J. Lausche and the Legislature.

Citrus Growers Worry As Can Strike Continues

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Stalemated contract negotiations pushed a nationwide strike against two top can manufacturers into its third day today, intensifying the concern of the citrus industry over dwindling can supplies.

Citrus canners in Florida, hit hardest by the walkout of 33,000 CIO United Steelworkers at 73 U.S. and Canadian plants of American Can Co. and Continental Can Co, predict a major crisis if the strike lasts much longer.

Scattered reports from other sections of the country indicate no widespread ill effects yet.

New York City Walkout Shuts 8th Newspaper

Stereotypers Refuse To Handle News From Affected Publications

NEW YORK (AP)—The Long Island Star-Journal halted publication today when its stereotypers refused to handle news of struck newspapers in Manhattan which were to be printed in the form of paid advertisements.

No material from the advertisers of the struck papers was involved.

Stephen Rogers, editor of the Queens afternoon paper, said in a statement the stereotypers, who make casts for the advertisements, refused to handle the ads, contending it was "struck work."

Violation of Contract

"This action by the stereotypers union, in violation of our contract, destroys a vital link in the newspaper's production line, preventing us from placing printed pages on the presses," Rogers said in a statement.

"Under the circumstances, the Long Island Star-Journal could no longer publish and regretfully announces it must suspend until the controversy is settled."

The Star-Journal thus became the eighth paper in the metropolitan area to give up publication because of a strike of photo-engravers against six Manhattan papers.

Talks Continue

Negotiators and a special panel of federal mediators were due to pitch in again today in efforts to break the deadlock in the week-old photo-engravers' strike which has left the city without a major newspaper.

A 2½-hour mediation session recessed early last night. Walter A. Maggiolo, general counsel of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, reported no progress.

The dispute involves wages, hours, welfare benefits and holidays.

Washington Acts

The special three-man mediation panel was set up yesterday on orders from Washington. It entered the talks at once.

The strike of 400 photoengravers has choked off a total newspaper circulation of almost 5½ million and idled about 20,000 employes of six newspapers—the Times, Daily News, Daily Mirror, World-Telegram and The Sun, Journal-American and Post.

The papers were closed when nonstriking members of mechanical, craft and editorial-business office unions honored the photoengravers' picket lines.

A seventh major newspaper, the Herald Tribune, suspended publication Monday night in sympathy with the other publishers. Its photoengraving is done by a commercial firm.

Cut Demands

The photoengravers, who have turned down proposals by the publishers and by federal officials to arbitrate four deadlocked issues, have cut their demands from a $15 weekly package to a $7.50 package. The publishers have been standing on their prestrike offer of a $3.75 package.

Wages under the expired contract were $120 a week for day work and $131 for night work.

Plane Is Met By Churchill, French Chief

Crowd of 2,000 Greets Party; AEC Director Last-Minute Addition

—President Eisenhower arrived in Bermuda today for the start of a history-making Big Three conference with Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel.

The presidential plane Columbine landed at American-leased Kindley Field at 11:12 a.m. EST.

Group Waits on Plane

Waiting to greet Eisenhower as he stepped from the plane were Churchill and Laniel, together with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

A crowd of about 2,000 was on hand to welcome Eisenhower. Also present was a colorful honor guard made up of Royal Welsh Fusiliers, Bermuda militia and U.S airmen.

In the presidential party were Secretary of State Dulles and Lewis Strauss, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss was added to the party at the last minute this morning.

The flight from Washington took 3 hours 1 minutes.

Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault were scheduled to meet at 3 p.m. to get the formal talks underway, with their chiefs gathering around the table immediately afterward.

Dining With Governor

The whole group was to dine tonight with Gov. Sir Alexander Hood at Government House.

The colorful reception ceremonies contrasted sharply with the somber questions facing the conference.

Churchill earlier had been believed eager to press his pet scheme for a quick meeting with Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov. By today, however, it seemed obvious that the American desire to give priority to pressuring the French for ratification of the European army treaty now dominates.

Laniel, who arrived yesterday, let it be known through aides that he is just as eager as Eisenhower to tackle this problem in the hopes of gaining from Britain and the United States assurances of protection from the rearmed German units which the projected international army would include.

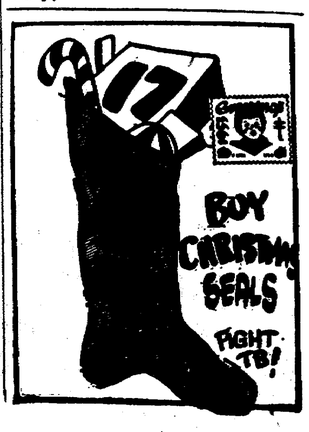
Details Not Released

The exact form of the promises the French want was not made public. Reliable reports earlier this week said Eisenhower was prepared to offer France his strongest personal assurance that the United States would maintain the "combat effectiveness" of its forces in Europe, if not the total number of American troops there.

British sources pointed to repeated statements by Eden to the House of Commons outlining Britain's intention to keep her troops on the continent.

Bidault and Eden had a hush-hush two-hour meeting last night during which, it was reliably reported, they discussed a new joint approach to Italy and Yugoslavia on the question of disputed Trieste. No details were announced but it was undertood they outlined an appeal for both nations to modify their territorial claims.

The French also let it be known they intend to tell Eisenhower and Churchill that Britain and the United States must approve the French economic union with the Saar Basin. The French say they will not ratify the EDC Pact without prior agreement on the Saar. This coal-steel area, now autonomous but closely tied economically to France, is also claimed by Germany.



Senator Conciliatory

McCarthy Planning Chat With Ike After Bermuda

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was reported today to be planning a personal chat with President Eisenhower soon after the President returns from the Big Three talks in Bermuda.

This report came from a person in a position to know. McCarthy declined to be quoted on the subject, and the White House press office said it hadn't heard anything about such a meeting.

Denies Challenge

McCarthy yesterday disclaimed any intention to challenge Eisenhower's leadership of the Republican party but he reserved the right to criticize the administration "when I think it is making mistakes."

This was a reply to statements earlier in the week by the President and Secretary of State Dulles rejecting McCarthy's demands for drastic revision of some phases of administration foreign policy.

McCarthy's statement was phrased for the most part in conciliatory tones.

But at the same time he appealed over the President's head, in effect, to the American people on the question of cutting off American aid to any foreign country which trades with Red China so long as any American war prisoners are held by the Communists.

Seeks Public Backing

Departing from his prepared statement, McCarthy urged all who share his view that such trade should be stopped to write or wire the President.

This invitation was filmed for television, and news programs from coast to coast carried it last night.

As of 8:30 p.m. last night, the White House said 120 telegrams had come in. Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder said "they were not all one way," but said no breakdown had been made.

McCarthy told reporters he ad libbed the appeal "on the spur of the moment."

"Now I think President Eisenhower is an honorable man," he

Benson Okays Feed Loans for Ohio Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of drought-hit Ohio farmers are eligible for the three per cent government feed loans approved by Secretary of Agriculture Benson yesterday.

Farmers Home Administrator R. B. McLeaish says there have been isolated cases of abuse of this system in the 18 other states entitled to its benefits. But he doesn't expect this to happen in Ohio.

What happens, he says, is that some people with other businesses than farming try to get these loans because of the low interest, even when they have other sources of credit. Sometimes they have been successful, he says.

"We want to make absolutely sure," adds McLeaish, "that only honest-to-goodness farmers get this money."

Farmers from 40 Ohio counties are eligible for the loans. They may apply at their local Farmers Home Administration office. Most of the loans will be repayable in a year, the Agriculture Department said.

Eligible counties:

Hamilton, Preble, Butler, Montgomery, Warren, Clermont, Greene, Clinton, Brown, Highland, Fayette, Adams, Scioto, Pike, Ross, Pickaway, Knox, Licking, Fairfield, Perry, Hocking, Vinton, Jackson, Lawrence, Gallia, Meigs, Athens, Muskingum, Coshocton, Holmes, Tuscarawas, Guernsey, Noble, Washington, Carroll, Harrison, Belmont, Monroe, Jefferson and Morgan.

Ironton authorities still are also investigating what County Coroner Harry Nenni called the "mysterious and sudden" death of Gordon Kelly, 28. Kelly was found dead in his home Wednesday.

Harvard Sending University Paper To New York City

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Editors of the Harvard University Crimson prepared to send "a few thousand" copies of their undergraduate daily newspaper to New York today to help fill the strike-caused news void there.

Crimson Managing Editor George S. Abrams said:

"The thought of a great city like New York without a newspaper can cause only unrest among those interested in the intellectual well-being of the United States. The Crimson, in its small way, could not sit by and see such a situation continue to exist."

Crimson President Michael MacCoby of Mount Vernon, N. Y., said today's edition will feature Associated Press news and "analyses of world and national news by Harvard professors and newspapermen attending Harvard under Nieman Fellowships."

Actor Robert Mitchum Cited on Speed Charge

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Actor Robert Mitchum is scheduled to appear in court today to answer a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in the city limits.

After his attorney posted $250 bail yesterday, a warrant charging escape and evading arrest was withdrawn.

Motorcycle officer J. N. Ryan said Mitchum suddenly drove off while he was writing out a ticket for speeding Wednesday night.

Ryan said the actor later phoned the police station and explained, "I wasn't sure you were a cop, Dad; I thought you were a bandit, so I went home."

PLANE CRASH FATAL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Homer W. Friend, 37, a Columbus contractor, was killed and Louis J. McBride, 29, also of Columbus, was injured seriously yesterday when Friend's private plane crashed outside nearby Galloway. The men were on their way to inspect a home Friend was building. The plane apparently overshot a field near the house and crashed after stalling when Friend tried to turn.

Mentally Handicapped Find Haven in Hillsboro

EDITORS: The following story describing a home for mentally handicapped children was written for The Associated Press by J. R. Shaffer Jr. of the Hillsboro Publishing Co.

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—The hopes of parents of children in several Ohio counties are linked to the neat, comfortable household of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swearinger who live on Ohio 247 just south of this city.

Known as "Hope Haven," the Swearinger residence is a home for mentally handicapped children whose parents cannot take care of them, and who cannot be admitted to state hospitals because of their age or condition.

There have been many foster homes established in this county during the past few years since the closing of the Highland County Children's Home. But the Swearinger residence is one of the few of its kind in Ohio that accepts only the mentally retarded.

Right now there are ten children in the home, only one of them from Highland County. Others living there are from Adams, Butler, Clark, Montgomery and Jefferson counties.

Mrs. Swearinger conceived the idea for the home this fall. Formerly a "foster mother" who took care of other children coming under the jurisdiction of the County Welfare Department, she agreed to take a local mentally handicapped child for a short time until other arrangements could be made.

The child's condition showed her the great need for such home and presented a challenge to her, since she always has loved children.

Soon afterward five children were moved here from Cincinnati. Other counties with such children on their hands and no place to send them pleaded for admittance of their wards.

"Many have been turned away," Mrs. Ruth Johnson, local welfare director, told a reporter, "because the Swearingers have their hands full and the state does not recommend more than ten children in a home."

The children live at Hope Haven until they are at least six years old Under a recent ruling, no patient under six years can be admitted to the state hospitals, and even then, this county has a quota of only three admissions per year. The state hospital at Orient, where most of the children from this area are sent, will not take bed patients, which, with one exception, make up the household at Hope Haven.

The youngest child in the home is a four-month-old girl whose face and head are deformed. With large, beautiful blue eyes, she cannot see. Neither can she hear.

The oldest child is a five-year-old girl who is an epileptic, but normal otherwise. She is the only ambulatory patient in the home.

Then there's Nancy, a nine-month-old girl who, when brought to the home, was suffering from a spinal injury affecting her brain. When she arrived, she was given only a short time to live. Her legs were stiff. Today, she has a generally healthy appearance as she sits in the high chair, swinging her legs to and fro, or lies in her crib, playing with her shoe laces or toes as other children sometimes do.

Besides just keeping the children until they are old enough to be sent to the hospitals, Mrs. Swearinger tries to train them to use their muscles. That's a big job, but worth the effort, she says.

Mrs. Johnson, who each day faces the task of placing children in the home, said: "I only wish we had more Swearingers to carry on this great work. There are only a few who would undertake such a task and fewer yet who could handle the job as it is being done at Hope Haven."

The Printed Word

Edward R. Murrow has made such a complete sizeup of what happens when people are left without newspapers that his statement will be added to the truisms of journalism.

Referring to New York's newspaperless existence after a handful of photo-engravers called a strike, Murrow said:

"A newspaper is like your youth—never appreciated until it's gone. A city without newspapers serves to remind everyone that press, radio and television are basically complementary. But the newspaper is more tangible."

The press compiles and keeps the record of events. It tells people from day to day what they need to know — from day to day— to carry on their lives.

It is the tangible way for a citizen who has something to sell to get in touch with the citizen who has something to buy and the other way around — not the only way but the tangible way.

There is no substitute for the printed word. There are supplements but no substitutes. Radio is a supplement. It can leap over barriers and disseminate information instantaneously. But it does not leave a printed word in its wake for future reference. Nor does television, the newest supplement to newspapers. Both are wonderful. But they do not take the place of newspapers.

In New York City, millions of newspaper readers who are trying to fill an aching void in their highly complicated urban existence have learned the hard way that there is no substitute for the printed word.

No One's Stopping Them

President Eisenhower's promise to ask Congress for Puerto Rico's independence whenever that commonwealth asks for it is not what it seems to be at first sight.

Instead of being an open-minded invitation to enjoy independence it is a challenge to the island's fire-eating Nationalists to put up or shut up.

In 1950 they tried to assassinate President Truman and stage a revolution against their government. In 1953 they have been so obstreperous in their revolutionary antics in New York City that Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, has been assigned an armed guard.

It was Lodge's ironic privilege to make the announcement that President Eisenhower would recommend Puerto Rican independence to Congress, if Puerto Rico asked for independence.

Gov. Munoz-Marin, who formerly agitated for independence, prefers to maintain a commonwealth status for the time-being. As head of the government, he knows his people are not ready for absolute independence and will not be ready until they have more education, more industries, more houses and more hospitals.

He knows that it would be a catastrophe if anything stopped the free emigration of Puerto Ricans to the United States. It would be stopped automatically if Puerto Rico became an independent state.

The Eisenhower declaration may not keep Puerto Rican Nationalists from being bloodthirsty but it neutralizes their pet issue.

They can have independence whenever Puerto Rico wants it. They are not opposed by the United States but by other Puerto Ricans.

In the Wild Blue Yonder

The United States Air Force has purchased and distributed 75 special cameras to air bases for photographing "flying saucers." It is determined to clear up the great unsolved mystery of what it is so many people keep seeing in the wild blue yonder.

The Air Force deserves sympathy, not because it has been unable to pin down the phantoms which flit through its special province but because it has been unable to stay clear of the temptation to brush off the whole thing as nonsense.

Four years ago this month it ended a two-year investigation of "flying saucers" with the brusque announcement they did not exist.

Yet a year later, in 1950, "flying saucers" were reported in many different parts of the country and a resident of Montana complained that the Air Force had taken his color movies of two of them which he had photographed over Great Falls on Aug. 15.

In 1951 the U.S. Navy got into the excitement with a pooh-poohing report that "flying saucers" were plastic baloons which it used for high-altitude cosmic-ray research.

In 1952, the Air Force announced officially that "flying saucers" were mirages caused by temperature inversions. It was willing to concede by this time that people who saw "flying saucers" were seeing something, if only a mirage.

In 1953, the Air Force is distributing cameras to take pictures of "flying saucers." What it will be doing in 1954 remains to be seen, but it won't be saying brusquely as it did in 1950 that nothing exists—not with all those cameras waiting to find out what it is.

Attempt To Wreck GOP

By David Lawrence

Furor Over McCarthy Work of Troublemakers

For several days now the headlines have been implying that President Eisenhower and Sen. McCarthy have "broken." It just isn't true.

If a difference of opinion on whether Communists in government is going to be an issue in the coming political campaigns means a "break," then Eisenhower must be considered as having "broken" with more Republicans than the senator from Wisconsin.

Even differences of foreign policy have heretofore not caused the President to "break" with members of his party, for Sen. Knowland, the Republican leader, doesn't always see eye to eye with the State Department.

SINCE EISENHOWER made his first comment to his press conference last week that he hoped the issue of Communists in government would be a memory by the time of the 1954 campaign, five Republican senators have differed with the President by expressing the belief that it really would be an issue. They are:

1. Sen. Saltonstall, chairman of the Armed Services Committee of the Senate.

2. Sen. Millikin, chairman of the Finance Committee and head of the Republican Conference of the Senate.

3. Sen. Jenner, chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration and also chairman of the subcommittee on internal security.

4. Sen. Ives, chairman of the subcommittee on labor.

5. Sen. Welker, member of the Agriculture Committee

When Eisenhower reiterated at his press conference on Wednesday of this week that he expected Communists in government not to be an issue in the 1954 congressional campaigns, he issued a prepared statement on the subject.

THERE HAS been steady pressure at the White House from "left wingers" and others who don't know much about politics—except perhaps from the standpoint of what benefits the Democrats — to persuade Eisenhower that he must demonstrate dramatically to the country that he is anti-McCarthy.

The people who have advised the President along this line seem to have forgotten that McCarthy as an individual senator can be readily attacked, but this leaves in its wake a considerable disaffection among millions of Republicans who believe McCarthy has been doing a good job in awakening the Congress and the executive branch of the government to the menace of Communist infiltration in the government.

What seems difficult to understand is Eisenhower's belief that all that's necessary to eradicate the issue of Communists in government from politics is to eliminate them from the government under his own administration.

That's a rather naive approach, and undoubtedly it is also the innocent approach of some of his inexperienced advisers.

THE TRUTH is that, if Communists are driven out of the government now, what assurance is there that, if a Democratic administration returns to power in 1956, the Communist sympathizers will not get back again into positions of influence?

Must the party out of power not be held responsible for its sins, especially when the recent reaction of its leaders to the Harry Dexter White case shows they have learned nothing by it?

The importance of the 1954 congressional elections is that, if the Democrats get back into control of both Houses and some of their so-called "liberals" become chairmen of congressional committees, the work that has to be done to check executive agencies constantly will be regarded as finished because of the Eisenhower pronouncement, and inquiries will be abandoned.

YET THE RECORD shows that the executive agencies cannot do their own house-cleaning because often the facts are mobilized by congressional investigators or facts are brought out in committee hearings that could never be detected in departmental hearings.

William Remington, recently convicted of perjury in denying that he was a Communist, was cleared by departmental boards.

Alger Hiss was never caught till he testified before a congressional committee.

There are many instances where the statute of limitations has run and only by congressional inquiry can facts be brought to light that show contacts between government personnel already "cleared" and persons outside the government whose connections are dubious.

Eisenhower cannot possibly control or censor what is said in a congressional campaign either by the members of his own party or the opposing party.

If he thinks he can get a commitment from the Democrats to avoid attacking "McCarthyism" in the 1954 campaign, then maybe not much will be said about the Communists-in-government issue.

EISENHOWER is not in control of what the Democrats may say on this, and many of them think "McCarthyism" will be an issue. So it seems rather pointless for Eisenhower to lend himself to any schemes to discipline members of his party for openly expressing their own ideas as to the 1954 campaign.

Nothing can hurt a president more quickly than the impression that he wants to muzzle the members of his own party.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman tried "purges" to their sorrow.

Somebody ought really to give Mr. Eisenhower a few pointers on how to avoid friction in his own party because the people who are pressing him to start a row inside his party aren't really Republicans of influence but "left wingers," and their concepts are largely of the New Deal-Fair Deal variety.

The kind of voters who want a McCarthy-Eisenhower fight aren't going to vote Republican next time anyhow. They are mostly Stevenson-Truman followers.

The Democrats hereabouts are already rejoicing over the prospects of a wreckage of the Republican party in Congress at the next session.

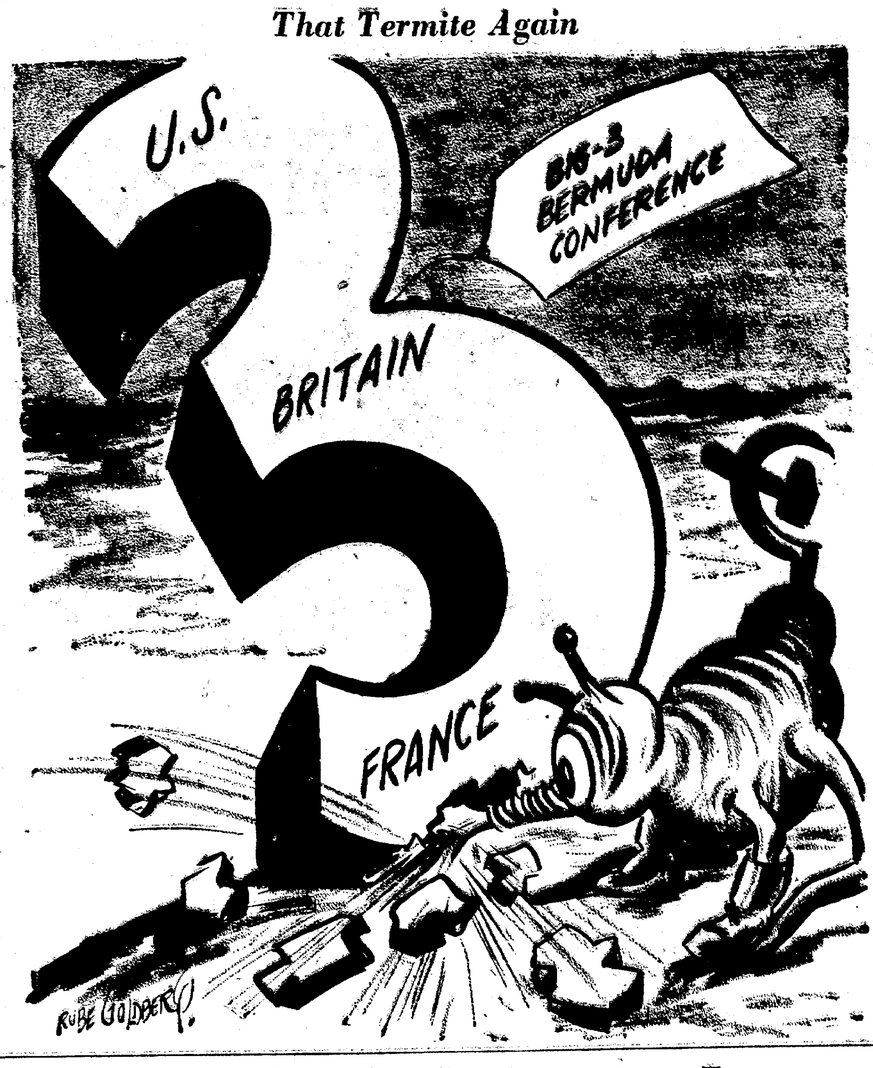
That Termite Again



Dulles Sidesteps Communism Issue

By Edward K. Nellor

Secretary Dulles, in voicing the administration's answer to Sen. McCarthy's recent television speech, revealed that no effort will be made to induce the British to stop shipping supplies to Communist China.

In making his views about McCarthy's attack known — obviously with White House blessing—Dulles sidestepped the issue of Communism completely and grappled with the Wisconsin senator solely on the issue of foreign policy.

In doing so the secretary of state made a basic error, which McCarthy will point out, according to his aides.

THE SECRETARY of state declared that the senator charged the administration with sending "perfumed" notes to our allies.

The senator in his speech attacking what he termed diplomatic weakness in dealing with the Communist issue, accused the State Department of sending "perfumed notes" to Communist governments, not our allies, as the secretary of state states.

In the statement that is being widely billed as the President's own answer to McCarthy, Dulles revealed also that the reason U.S. officials are reluctant to tackle the British on the issue of Communist trade is that we need the British Isles as an outpost of defense.

Largely overshadowed in the blast at McCarthy in the statement are these words on the defense issue: "Also, we gain security because of an early warning system which permits of interception and civil defense. But this requires facilities in the friendly countries which are nearer the Soviet Union."

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT refused to comment on Dulles' revelation that Britain is the basic defense area against atomic attack from Soviet Russia.

Huge defense outlays of cash have been made, constructing airfields in Europe, which were billed as outposts for our aerial counterattack in the event of war. There has already been wide criticism in Congress of this spending and there will undoubtedly be more in the light of the Dulles disclosure.

Dulles' statement at this time is being interpreted here by McCarthy's aides as political oil on the troubled diplomatic waters around Bermuda, where the President is conferring with Winston Churchill and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

THE BRITISH are known to wince every time McCarthy or any other member of Congress mentions Britain's trade with Soviet-dominated China — or with Soviet Russia direct.

In speaking of the need for cooperation between free nations, Dulles said that blustering and domineering methods can ruin such relationships.

McCarthy staff members, studying the secretary's statement, point out that all the cooperation in trading with the Communists in China is one - sided — with U.S. business interests denied the right to ship China anything, while the British are busy promoting this market.

McCarthy has been deer hunting at a north woods lodge. He is also recovering from an attack of the grippe that has delayed his return to Washington. He is expected to be in his office here, however, before the end of the week, and plans a detailed answer to the Dulles statement.

The Wisconsin senator consistently denies charges that he attempted in his speech to injure the Eisenhower administration, saying he simply wanted to alert it to certain political facts of life. He also denies published reports that he is "miffed" because the administration allegedly worked with the Jenner subcommittee in the Harry Dexter White case instead of with McCarthy's committee.

When Attorney General Brownell first disclosed the White case, Sen. McCarthy made an immediate decision to leave the issue to the Justice Department. There is no conflict between his operations and those of the subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner.

Months ago, in the presence of several individuals, McCarthy and Jenner divided the jurisdictional area of their investigations.

Also, to squelch reports of a scrap between the two Red hunters, Sen Jenner's office points out that the Indiana lawmaker praised McCarthy's speech — the one Dulles and the administration now attack — indicating that if the White House is seeking someone in Congress to choose up sides with on the McCarthy issue it won't be the senator from Indiana.

Feats of Memory

By TRUMAN TWILL

The lady who darns my socks can remember telephone numbers after she has heard them only once. She can remember telephone numbers that haven't been in use for 15 and 20 years.

She can remember where all the magazines are, who said what and when, the year that other people's babies were born, the birthdays of relatives and the wedding anniversaries of her friends.

She knows to the penny how much was laid out on capital expenditures years ago, the recipes for cakes, puddings and sauces, the names of every person she has met and the names of persons she only has heard about.

She knows what was paid for household services performed in the past and whether or not they were satisfactory. She can recall the circumstances of good and bad occasions whenever there is need for reviewing them.

If allowed a few minutes to associate unrelated events, she can pinpoint events in time and space by such thought processes as remembering that so-and-so's baby was born after its mother's hair had turned gray, which happened after the automobile accident that couldn't have occurred before the family had a green car, which was one of the first models of the Uproarious 8, therefore the baby now must be either 16 or 17 years old, probably the latter because the baby's mother dyed her hair for almost a year at first.

The lady who darns my socks has a remarkable memory.

Without her I would not know anything that could not be looked up in a book and would not be able to remember where the book had been mislaid after I looked up something the last time.

I would be oblivious of all anniversaries, except the anniversary of my own birth, and would have to be reminded by someone else of such obvious occasions as Sweetest Day of The Year, Buy Your Missus a New Broom Week and Mother's Day.

The names of all persons except my closest friends would be cloaked in mystery. There would be no basis of comparison for expenditures, unless the amounts had been written down and even so simple a chore as baking a potato would present a puzzle in cookery.

Nothing worth remembering would be on tap, though many things which might better be forgotten would come bubbling and boiling out of oblivion.

My memory runs in another direction.

I can remember meals I have eaten and sounds I have heard. I can remember incidents no one else noticed when they occurred. I can remember the smell of freshly washed dogs, the odor of willow sprouts in June and the free-as-a-bird feeling of my first pair of long pants.

I can remember what schoolrooms smelled like on rainy days and the taste of potato soup when the living wasn't easy. I can remember meaningful inflections, snatches of casual conversation, themes of forgotten songs and phrases from poems whose titles have been forgotten.

The rub is that no one cares whether I can remember these things. They do not impress anybody with the retentiveness of my mind, whereas everybody is impressed when the lady who darns my socks is able to reel off a list of half a hundred telephone numbers, including the dog warden's, the man who fixes the pump, the moving picture theaters and the house where someone lived three years ago before they moved out of town five years ago. She knows the out-of-town number too.

I'm impressed too. I can't even remember where the telephone book is.

Opinions on Television

By MARK DANA

There are so many opinions about the effect of television programs on children floating around that any person who, oddly, may now be neutral on the subject needs only to take his choice.

Medical men are arguing about dangers to youthful eyesight over prolonged watching of the flickering screen. Clergymen, teachers, parents, sociologists, judges and lots of other persons are increasingly vocal—and just as increasingly competitive—in their utterances.

Sample statements are easy to quote. An organization bearing the interesting name of United Parents Association decides that children who have television sets available spend 14 hours weekly watching them, and gain great interest in reading, art, music, dancing, dramatics and other so-called cultural values.

Simultaneously, just to cross an ocean for another viewpoint, one finds the society of Film Teachers in London discussing the theory that no child should watch television for more than an hour daily if only to keep youngsters on earth and out of a world of make-believe.

Other arguments can be heard just by listening—that television keeps kids out of mischief, hurts their eyes, interferes with their school homework, prevents them from nagging for movie money, provides a home entertainment feature for neighbors, keeps children up too late at night, makes gangsters and shooting cowboys too real, improves their manners and morals, damages their manners and morals, and all such things.

Comments about early broadcasting were much like that years ago, and one can start a verbal battle any time on the theme of movies and books available for small fry. Such controversies, of course, are over the heads of the kiddies concerned, and often they avoid the whole problem—while their parents are monopolizing the home television set watching the disputed programs.

Impressions of a Soviet Note

Taking cognizance of recent statements from some other governments, the Soviet government desires to state that its attitude on conferences to lessen world tensions is clear to all. If its attitude were any clearer, the Soviet government itself would understand it. This would naturally require an immediate change. The U.S.S.R. position follows:

1—It favors a conference of ministers of foreign affairs to examine measures of lessening world tensions. All measures welcome. No holds barred. (In case of duplicate measures the choice is to be left to the sponsor. All measures to lessen tension become the property of Station S-T-Y-M-I-E.)

2—The Soviet government will be glad to supply measures for lessening tensions. To get the U.S.S.R. complete set of tension—lesseners, phone Moscow 2-0467. (If in Jersey call Bigelow 0-0000.)

3—Considerations of Soviet "measures for examination" will require that participants have shoulder harness, leather helmets and noseguards. Call the Malenkov Bureau in Charge of Athletic Supplies for price list. Positively no credit.

4—Any impression the Soviet government is opposed to conference is false. It knows of no better medium for propaganda. It has led the world in the matter of conferences and is the inventor of the Panmunjom or "tent" type of conference, guaranteeing the long run, the revival and the sale of rights to movies.

5—The Soviet government must oppose the one-question conference. This could lead to an early closing of a conference, a situation which cannot be tolerated by the U.S.S.R.

6—Again the Soviet government feels compelled to take a determined stand for the broad-scale conference, permitting discussion of everything and assuring spectators of a variegated attack, much open field running, a free use of the forward pass and the style of confusion to which Russia has become accustomed. It thinks the agenda should include steer roping, Brahma bull wrestling and ice hockey so that the chaos may be kept up to previous levels.

7—The Soviet government calls attention to the fact that its past suggestions regarding the compulsory eight-count and who is counting at the knockdowns, made wholly in the interest of peace, have been rejected and asks, "Is that nice?"

8—Once again the U.S.S.R. calls attention to the fact it is always in the market for a conference, and has a conference program which is subject to change without notice, does not run on Sundays or Labor Day, stops at Bridgeport to take on mail and carries no dining car.

9—Any questions?

Walter Alston, the new manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, played only one inning of Big League baseball in his life and was struck out by Warneke. This gives Warneke the record as the only pitcher who drove a man so far back from the plate in St. Louis that he was next heard of six years later in Brooklyn.

Alston spent all his life in the minors. The Brooklyn management believes in giving a young fellow from the country a chance to come to the city of Brooklyn and make good in Los Angeles.

France has taken into the Legion of Honor an American who introduced corn-on-the-cob to the nation. "Lafayette, we are now really here!"

Ava Gardner and Frank Sinatra insist their separation is permanent and it looks like they would never get together as long as the publicity holds out.

New York City will prohibits small-sized taxis. One argument there is that in the fight for possession in theater-hour rush the boxing law requires the same distance between the ropes.

McCarthy Revives Old Policy Dispute

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing Sen. McCarthy has said or done in these first nine months of the Eisenhower administration inflamed it so much as his recent criticism.

But the Wisconsin Republican was using just a couple of new matches. It was an old one, relit which made the administration jump the highest.

What was new in his nationwide broadcast a week ago can be stated briefly:

1. He declared himself an issue in the 1954 congressional elections. He told his audience to vote Republican if they approved of him, Democratic if they disapproved.

2. He contradicted President Eisenhower, who had said he hoped Communists - in - government wouldn't be an issue in those 1954 elections. McCarthy said it would be an issue.

But when in that same broadcast he undertook to tell the administration how to handle its foreign aid program, he wasn't saying anything new at all. That was his relit match.

Perhaps it was the way he said it—and the fact that he was talking over nationwide television and radio instead of in a statement from his office—which evoked retorts from Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

In a statement Sept. 23 McCarthy suggested the United States end all aid to Britain and America's other allies unless they stoped trading with Red China.

That was precisely what he said in his broadcast, and what he had been hammering away at for months.

In his broadcast he asked sarcastically if the Eisenhower administration was going to try to get the war prisoners freed by sending "perfumed notes."

He suggested this country force the Chinese to give up the prisoners by ending all trade with them by America's allies. He said the United States should shut off aid to the allies unless they ended trade with the Reds.

One of McCarthy's earliest collisions with the administration resulted from his announcement last March that members of his investigating staff negotiated with Greek ship owners to stop trade with the Communists in Asia.

other one of his disputes with Dulles over allied ships which call

In May McCarthy got into an- at Red Chinese ports.

So what McCarthy said last week was what he has been saying, in one way or another, for months: stop the allies from trading with the Reds.

In May Dulles gave a reply which included a phrase that he was against urging "upon our friends and allies additional restrictions upon their trade with the Communists' world even in terms of nonstrategic items."

This week, on Tuesday, Dulles said approximately the same thing: that this country does not have the right to dictate the allies' trade policies.

Although in his broadcast McCarthy was saying only what he had said before, this time Dulles considered it important enough to issue a prepared statement in rebuttal.

And Eisenhower at his news conference yesterday backed up Dulles with a prepared statement endorsing Dulles' reply to McCarthy.

Eisenhower's statement also took up the question of whether Reds-in-government would be an issue in 1954. Just as before, the President said he hoped it wouldn't. The issue, he said, should be whether his administration is doing a good job.

Detroiter Arrested After Fleeing With His Mother's Auto

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The U.S. marshal said last night William Parker Wright Jr. of Detroit, who stole his mother's car and fled, forfeiting the $2,500 bond she had raised by borrowing on her home, was back in custody.

The marshal's office said Wright, his mother and two uncles were awaiting his trial on an auto theft charge in federal court in Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 20 when he walked out.

He took his mother's car, the office said, and drove back to Michigan to see a girl friend. Some time later Wright abandoned the car and stole another.

The marshal's office said he drove south to Ironton, Ohio, and was trying to sell it Tuesday when Ironton city police arrested him.

Schools Sponsor Movie on Modern Reading Methods

In an attempt to clear up some misunderstandings about modern methods of teaching reading, a film, "Skippy and the Three R's", is being offered to Marion groups through the city school system.

City school superintendent Lester L. Dickey has scheduled the film for Marion from Jan. 1-26. Groups which would like to schedule the movie may make arrangements by phoning the city school administration office, 2-3132.

The city school system has also agreed to furnish a moderator to introduce the film and a group of panelists to discuss the movie. Harold Edwards, director of instruction, will serve as moderator. The panel would be made up of teachers and principals and open discussion of the film would follow. If needed, a projector and operator will be furnished.

The film was produced by the National Education Association and was shown at the association's convention in Miami Beach, Fla. It was given a nation-wide showing on television recently and was shown here during the local two-day summer workshop program.

Independent Ohio Phone Companies Issued Rule Book

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Something new in the way of rule books is being sent to Ohio's 175 independent telephone companies.

The rule book is designed to help eliminate squabbles over which telephone company should be serving what area. And for the subscriber or potential subscriber it provides a guide to determining whether he should be hooked up to the wires of company "X" or company "Y."

Daniel W. DeHayes, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Independent Telephone Assn., says the book will be a blessing to telephone companies, subscribers and the state utilities commission alike.

The commission, which yesterday gave its approval to the rule book, hopes to eliminate a number of minor boundary disputes which might otherwise come before it for arbitration.

Canadians' Prime Minister Is Upheld

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's Liberal forces smashed down a Progressive Conservative motion of nonconfidence in Canada's government last night. The House of Commons vote was 153-56.

The ballot came after a three-week debate on the government-prepared throne speech which opened Parliament and outlined the Cabinet's program. The House action cleared the way for immediate consideration of government legislation.

The defeated motion stated that Canada's welfare depends on free competition and urged action to "restore" markets and promote world trade.

When the Wright brothers made their flights at Kill Devil Hill in 1903, it could be reached only by boat, but a highway now links the area to the mainland.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS and conferences are occupying the time of members of the Woman's Hospital Board of Marion these days as preparations go forward for their annual holiday dance Dec. 28, at the Hy-Way Rollarena. Reports on the progress of plans were given at a meeting of the members Wednesday at the YMCA, and the time ordinarily given over to sewing was devoted to work on the decorations for the dance.

This year's setting will carry out a Christmas theme done in brilliant metallic paper. Ross Halamay and his orchestra will again provide the music for dancing from 10 until 2 o'clock.

Another project of the board this year is the cookbooks containing recipes from the members' own kitchens. Just off the press, these were seen by the members at Wednesday's meeting and judging from the advance sales reports promise to put dollars into the treasury for the board's philanthropic work.

Mrs. John F. Smith was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Chester C. Roberts, Mrs. T. E. Sonnanstine and Mrs. Carl Meek were named a committee to prepare resolutions on the death of Miss Geraldine Hord, a member of the board.

Hostesses were Mrs. Lowell H. Guthery, Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer and Mrs. James Arnold. A meeting in two weeks will be at the Marion Country Club with Mrs. Lewis Ashworth, Mrs. John K. Bartram and Mrs. Francis J. Hurst as hostesses.

At a meeting of the MOH Class of Prospect Street Methodist Church held recently, Mrs. Mildred Schaber was in charge of the devotions. Following a talk by Mrs. Donna Boyd on the needs in Korea, members decided to send a Korean boy to a seminary for one year.

A report by Mrs. Martha Call, chairman of the nominating committee, revealed the election of the following officers: Mrs. Mary Mehaffey, president; Miss Mary Ellen Mahaffey, vice president; Miss Marie Bender, secretary and reporter; Mrs. Mildred Schaber, treasurer; and Mrs. Martha Schmidt, pianist.

The Rev. F. E. Shoup, pastor of the church, presented a talk on Spiritual Life Mission Week. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Martha Wright, Mrs. Lulu Mehaffey, and Mrs. Doris Bibler.

Mrs. William Parks was welcomed as a new member when the Castle Club met Nov. 18 at the Marion Engineer Depot. Members voted on revisions of the consitution and plans were made to give baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas to needy families. A message was read from Col. John Phelan regarding planned improvements for the officers' club. Mrs. Jack Born was appointed chairman for the canasta committe, with Mrs. W. Parks as assistant.

Canasta was played with high honors going to Mrs. Carl Barkley and second to Mrs. Doyle Painter, and in bridge, first went to Mrs. Allen Morton and second to Mrs. Robert Sibley. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Olin Cook and Mrs. W. G. Duemmell. Serving on the refreshment committee for the next meeting, Dec. 16, will be Mrs. John Phelan and Mrs. Samuel Duerson. Members are to bring canned goods, toys and clothing for the Christmas basket.

The program was in the form of a talent contest when the Pastime Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Doris Scott of 475 Osgood St. Included were a reading, "Thanksgiving," by Mrs. Rosie Stubner; a piano solo, "Deep Purple," by Mrs. Mary Cottrill; a vocal solo, "White Christmas," by Mrs. Doris Gorenflo, accompanied by Mrs. Patty Page; a reading, "A Baby Lives Here," by Mrs. Betty Bell; two piano numbers, "Crying In the Chapel" and "Your Cheating Heart," played by Mrs. Scott; and a reading, "Come Pretty Snow," by Mrs. Mary Montgomery.

Awards in games and contests went to Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Page and Mrs. Cottrill. Christmas carols were sung by the group.

To open the meeting, Mrs. Stubner read the 128th Psalm and members responded to roll call by giving suggestions for Christmas gifts from secret sisters. The next meeting, Dec. 27, will be at the home of Mrs. Cottrill, 450 Avondale Ave.

—:—

Mrs. Jean Lee, secretary, read a letter to the group from Floyd Hofacker, principal of the school, in which he suggested that as a project the group make drapes for the school auditorium. Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, a guest, gave a number of readings. A Christmas gift exchange concluded the evening's activities.

—:—

Mrs. Walter Eyster was welcomed as a new member when the Literature Study Club met Wednesday evening at the Women's Club Home. Serving as hostess was Miss Marguerite Howser. Mrs. Harley Roby displayed articles made by the blind and plans were made for a Christmas party and gift exchange to be held Dec. 16 with Mrs. Wayne Jenkins on Bellefontaine Ave. For the program, Mrs. John Pasters reviewed the book "Cyclone In Calico" by Nina Brown Baker.

—:—

An all-day meeting was held by the Senior WSCS of the Kirkpatrick Methodist Church Wednesday at the parsonage home of Mrs. Ralph Hollingsworth. A potluck dinner was served at noon. Mrs. R. B. Windom, vice president, presided for the meeting, devotions were conducted by Mrs. Esther Russell, and the program was in charge of Mrs. Charles Parcher, assisted by Mrs. James Purvis and Mrs. Polly Wert. A gift exchange followed the meeting. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Parcher of Monnette.

—:—

Excess Poundage Is Compared To Problems Facing Alcoholics

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Personally, I never touch the stuff now—whipped cream, I mean—but I'd like to tell Dr. Giorgio Lolli right now that there was a time when I could get away with two or three hot fudge sundaes with almonds at a sitting and, a couple of hours later, fall eagerly on a butterscotch cream cake. All this, I'd like Dr. Lolli to know, without visible bad after-effects and without ever showing the results of my inordinate appetite.

This Dr. Lolli, director of the Yale Plan Clinic and consultant of the Connecticut Commission on Alcoholism, is the director of a new and unique clinic set up in New York's Knickerbocker Hospital for the study and treatment—get this—obesity and alcoholism. It seems that the experts are beginning to suspect there is a similarity in the problems of those who look upon the wine when it is red and those who look upon the mashed potatoes when they are creamy.

Many Face Problem

And I sure hope, after they've researched the subject and experimented around with it a bit, they discover they're wrong. Something like a quarter of the American population is more or less concerned with a poundage problem, and I'm not certain how most of us are going to take to the idea that a second helping of baked Alaska is a symptom of a deep-seated trauma.

Personally, I'd like to peel off about 10 pounds. But I don't want Dr. Lolli to include me among the founding mothers and fathers of Over-Eaters Anonymous — yet. However, there are a few questions I'd like answered.

When does one cease officially being pleasingly plump or having what the ads euphemistically call a "mature figure" and become obese?

Eligible for Treatment

To become eligible for treatment in the new clinic, is the requirement excess poundage or a large appetite I happen to know a couple of lucky souls with large food capacities and size 12 figures. One of them has a yen for salads and other non-attening foodstuffs and the other just doesn't seem to gain weight. So, is it all right to eat enormously as long as it doesn't turn into extra waist-line?

If avoirdupois and embonpoint are about to join the pre-breakfast tipple and the five-martini lunch as danger signals of maladjustment, aren't we running the peril of becoming a nation of compulsive, secret dieters?

Victims of Neurosis

Anyway, I want to hear more about Dr. Lolli's project. But I kind of feel sorry for all those extremely well-upholstered souls who yesterday loved, and who—perhaps tomorrow—will be fingered as victims of neurosis.

Already, just thinking about it, I'm determined to lay off the caloric stuff immediately, to get onto a salad kick. If I've read up correctly on alcoholism, I understand that those with a weakness for the stuff must make a complete break with the bottle. Starches and fats are now out of my life. I'll show Dr. Lolli that I'm strong enough to handle this chocolate creams and mayonnaise problem alone.

FIRE BALL

You'll help allay fear of flash fires during the holidays with one of the new glass balls filled with carbon tetrachloride. The fire ball may be attached to the top of your Christmas tree as a precaution in the event of a spark from Junior's electric trains or excessive heat sets the tree aflame. The heat melts the fusible metal, splashing the chemical over the tree to extinguish a flash fire in a split second, say the manufacturers.

Parents Discover Time After Illness Creates Problems

By ANNETTE DAVIS
AP Newsfeatures

The aftermath of a child's illness can be more of a problem than the illness itself.

"If a child is allowed to become too demanding or dependent while he is sick, he may have difficulty adjusting to other children when he returns to a normal routine," says Dr. Thelma Hunt, head of the Psychology Department of George Washington University.

A child who has been coddled too much may run to mother for protection when he should be taking up for himself, she says. To avoid this, she cautions the mother not to let her sympathy get the best of her and not to disrupt any training schedule which has been started.

Knowing when to call the doctor sometimes presents a problem. Dr. Hunt gives these suggestions:

Call the doctor if the child's temperature goes too high, if he is sick more than a couple of days, or if there are any peculiar signs and symptoms which are different from past illnesses.

The doctor should always be called, Dr. Hunt emphasizes, if the mother is so worried that she stands a chance of upsetting the child. Sometimes, just talking with the doctor over the phone can reassure an anxious mother.

Usually, a child won't object to seeing a doctor if he is accustomed to checkups while he is well.

"If a child has built up a fear of the doctor, it's the doctor's fault most of the time, not the child's," says Dr. Hunt, who carries on a private practice herself.

Now that so many common remedes in palatable form are on the market, taking medicine need not be a problem.

"But," warns Dr. Hunt, "keep the candy-coated aspirin tablets out of the child's reach."

Sheriff Seeks 'Fire Inspector'

Man Leaves on Being Asked Identification

A man posing as a "fire inspector" of homes is being sought for questioning by the Marion County sheriff's office today.

Elmer L. Brobst told the sheriff a man stopped at his farm on State Route 529 southeast of Marion around noon Thursday and stated he wanted to make a routine check of his house. When Brobst asked to see the man's credentials, the "inspector" said he didn't need any, and left.

The man is described to be about 45 to 50 years of age, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighing between 165 to 175 pounds.

A report of a similar occurance was made to Marion police last week. Police checked the fire department to discover no fire inspector was employed by the department.

Prince of Peace Finals Scheduled Here Sunday

Five high school students will take part in the Marion County Prince of Peace Declamation contest Sunday night in Marion at Wesley Methodist Church.

They were winners in competitions held in their individual communities in November and were presented bronze medals given by the Ohio Council of Churches which each year sponsors the Prince of Peace contests throughout the state. Rev. O. W. Robbins of New Bloomington is county chairman. The group speaking Sunday night will include Janet Benge of Caledonia, Diann Irey of Claridon, Becky Converse of Green Camp, Linnea Gonzalez of New Bloomington, and Marilyn Borkosky of Waldo. A silver medal will be presented the winner who will take part in a district contest at a later date. Rev. W. Lincoln Stafford is the host pastor.

$27,000 Ordinance To Be Investigated By Galion's Mayor

Special to The Star

GALION—A thorough investigation of the ordinance, passed this week by City Council to pay the engineering firm of Emery, Marker and Emery, of Toledo, will be made by Mayor Jay F. Nichols.

The amount of the payment is for $27,254.02. It was explained by the mayor that he and Auditor Gloyd A. Frye will consider the matter thoroughly. The engineering fee is for services in connection with the proposed improvement of the municipal light and power plant. A minimum fee of $8,500 already has been paid the firm, city officials pointed out.

The city also has a contract with the same firm for distribution services with a minimum fee of $20,000. Council last year authorized a $500,000 bond issue for distribution system improvements.

Plans for improvement and extension of the city-owned utility were presented by the engineering firm in April, 1952, by resoluton of Council, and the amount of $2,500,000 was set for issuance of mortgage revenue bonds for the plant improvement. A referendum vote this Nov. 3 by Galion voters turned down the major improvement.

Baby Gorilla Gets Too Rambunctious, Winds Up in Zoo

ANACORTES, Wash. (AP) — Bobo, the pampered baby gorilla whose antics have cost him his happy home, is heading for the zoo.

Mrs. Ray Lowman broke into tears yesterday as she reported Bobo's sale to the Seattle Park Department for $5,500.

Describing herself as "almost heart-broken," the woman who has cared for the ape for most of his 2½ years added:

"We just have to get rid of him, and the first thing we're going to do is renovate our whole home. We haven't any chinaware left. There isn't a floor lamp in the house either. And just yesterday he jumped up on the dining room table and broke that too."

Bobo has grown to 60 pounds, just a start toward his eventual 500 to 600 pounds.

Moslems Threaten Holy War in Israel

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section (AP) —A "holy war" against Israel was threatened yesterday at the opening of a Moslem "Conference for Palestine's Salvation From Israeli Occupation."

Thirty-four leading Moslem personalities from all Arab countries, as well as from Pakistan, Afghanistan and Indonesia, took part.

Mohammad Mahmad Elsawaf, secretary general of the Iraqi Salvation Committee, said in a speech that "the day will come when we are going to declare a jihad (holy war) for the salvation of Palestine."

Elizabeth Bentley Says:

Soviet Bosses Kept Spy Rings Hustling After War Secrets

OSS Deeply Infiltrated; Agents Able To Anticipate Red Moves

By ELIZABETH BENTLEY
North American Newspaper Alliance

NEW YORK, Dec. 4—One of the most sensitive U. S. agencies deeply infiltrated by spies for the Soviet espionage system was the Office of Strategic Services.

American spies there were in a particularly productive spot. Through them came an endless flow of highly secret information on what the OSS was doing. Through them we learned, for example, tha tthe OSS was conducting secret negotiations with governments in the Balkan bloc in case World War II ended; that the OSS was parachuting people into Hungary; that OSS men were being sent into Turkey. World-wide information of all sorts was transmitted to the Soviets—plus the contents of State Deparment cables on vital issues which were shown to the OSS.

The appetite of the Russian secret police in control of the espionage apparatus functioning in the U. S. was insatiable and all-encompassing. Every scrap of information was seized upon and digested by them.

In fact, by the nature of the questions the Russians asked and the information they wanted, it was possible for us to anticipate the moves they made from the Balkans to the Baltic.

One type of request I received regularly from the Soviet secret police concerned the "attitudes" of American officials with whom Russian government representatives would have to deal in the lend-lease program and in other activities.

I recall that one official about whom the Russians never seemed to be able to obtain enough information was a William Batt of the War Production Board. His name came up time and again.

The members of the espionage rings would be asked to give their evaluation of the "attitude" of the U. S. official under study and these reports would then be handed back to the Russians for their guidance.

—:—

THESE REQUESTS for information would be transmitted to me orally by the Russians, or when they were too numerous to trust to memory, a written list of questions would be handed over. Another recurrent request was for all information the U. S. had about German planes. Answers to this type of question were generally furnished by the Silvermaster group.

Fifth of a Series

The Russians were also terribly eager for all information about new developments in American aviation and especially for data on the B-29. They insisted that American agents obtain performance figures on all our aircraft. It understood that the Russians were distrustful of the planes being shipped to them under the lend-lease program and were fearful that the U.S. might try to palm off its inferior aircraft on them.

STILL ANOTHER AREA of international relations in which the Russians were vitally interested was the financial transactions between the U.S. and Great Britain. Always pressing for greater allocations of funds for themselves, the Russian could use the Anglo-American transactions as a guide for their own demands.

The Soviet secret police also kept hounding the American agents to ferret out all information about U.S. undercover operations in the Nazi-occupied countries so that they could take steps to counteract whatever advantages the U.S. could gain from such activity.

One report the Russians turned over to me for amplification and explanation by American spies concerned the activity of a group of patriots in Hungary who were desperately anxious to keep the Russians from taking over. This group sent a man to Geneva to meet with an OSS agent. In some fashion, the Russians learned of this and demanded additional information on the subject.

I "ACQUIRED" the Silvermaster spy group in July, 1941, and in March, 1944, I took over "control" of the second spy ground, known as the "Perlo ring." Jacob Golos had died the year before and it was Earl Browder who made the arrangements for me to be the go-between for the Perlo group.

Browder, who was fighting an interparty intrigue for power and position in the apparatus, told me this second group had been handled by John Abt, but since Abt was in the public eye (he was at one time general counsel for the Almalgamated Clothing Workers of America), I must take it over.

I made first contact with the group in Abt's Central Park West apartment, where I also met Perlo and Charlie Kramer.

Besides Perlo, Abt and Kramer, others in the group included Edward Fitzgerald, of the War Production Board; Harry Magdoff, of the War Production Board; Donald Weaver, of the OSS; and Alan Rosenberg.

STILL OTHER MEMBERS of the Perlo ring, whom I did not meet personally but for whom I acted as courier, included Sol Lesinsky, of UNRRA; George Perazich, of UNRRA; and Harold Glasser, of Treasury.

There was a category of American spies who operated as individuals and were not a part of any organized group. Among these were Helen Tenney, of the OSS, J. Julius Joseph, of the OSS; Maurice Halperin, head of research and analysis, Latin American branch of the OSS; Robert Miller, head of the political division of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs; Joseph Gregg, Miller's assistant; Bernard Redmont, in the press division of the CIAA; and William Remington of the War Production Board.

Silvermaster's home in Washington was an important base because of the photographic lab operated in his basement by Ullman. It was in this lab that stolen documents of every imaginable type were copied on microfilm. The rolls were then brought to New York by me.

SO GREAT WAS the deluge of stolen documents at one period that there simply wasn't enough first-grade film to photograph them and Ullman's job was greatly complicated by the inferior material with which he had to work.

I would carry the film, documents and other materials in a casual bundle to New York where I would turn them over to my Soviet contact. The procedure was simple and the simplicity probably explains why it continued so long so successfully.

Carrying my innocent-looking bundle, I would meet the contact somewhere and we would walk into a convenient cafe or restaurant to dine. The Soviet agent would offer to help me with my bundle and I, naturally, would thank him and pass it over. After we had eaten, he would hold onto the bundle and we would part company.

At other times, I would carry my material in a dispatch case and proceed to a newsreel theater in the midtown area. Taking a seat in the rear, I would wait for the Soviet agent—with whom all this had been arranged—to enter with a similar dispatch case and sit beside me. We would then exchange cases surreptitiously in the semi-darkness and he would leave the theater with the material securely in his possession.

Police Report Two Accidents

State Highway Patrol Post Here Lists One

Two minor no-injury traffic accidents, one a hit-skip, were investigated during the last 24 hours by city police. Highway patrolmen reported one accident in the county.

The hit-skip occurred on E. Center St. at 10:15 a.m. yesterday when Robert E. Chapman, 22, of 1236 Ackerman Ave. slowed down for a traffic light and was struck from the rear by a truck. He told police that the truck went on without stopping. The rear bumper of Chapman's car was damaged, police said.

Cars driven by Firish W. Joseph, 41, of 323 N. State St. and Jay E. Mitchell, 65, of 353 Monroe St. were damaged in a mishap at Silver and Mary Sts. yesterday afternoon. Both were driving east on Silver St., police reported.

Two in Crash Arrested

Both motorists involved in the one accident in Marion County reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion post were issued citations to appear in Municipal Court.

Alvin R. Hirsch, 37, of Cleveland Heights was orderedd to appear today to answer a charge of failing to signal his intention of passing. Charles H. Dawson, 29, of 685 E. Farming St. was cited to appear Monday on a charge of failing to signal a turn.

The accident happened at 2:50 p.m. Thursday on State Route 4, about four miles north of the junction with Route 203. Patrol reports show both vehicles were northbound, with Dawson's truck making a left turn into a private drive.

Patrolmen say that at the same time Dawson tried to turn, Hirsch attempted to pass, colliding with the truck.

The right front and rear fenders and both right doors of Hirsch's car were damaged moderately, while only minor damage was reported to the left front corner of the body of the truck.

The Marion County sheriff's department was also called to investigate the accident.

Musical Drama Slated For Revival in Marion

Featured Saturday night at the Calvary EUB Church as a part of the special revival effort will be presentation of an original musical drama, "The Passion Play," prepared and produced by J. Roy MacMurray of Union City, Pa., musical evangelist. The church choir and members of the brass section of the church orchestra will take part.

Musical scores as setting for the dramatization wil linclude "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "The Cymbals Shall Sound Forth His Glory," and "Praise Ye the Father," Gounod. Character portrayals in the production will be of Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane, Judas Iscariot, with Mr. McMurray singing "Thirty Pieces of Silver," and Pilate the Roman governor, with the choir as the "mob demanding the crucifixion of Christ." Sound effects will be provded by Mrs. MacMurray.

Duets by Mr. and Mrs. MacMurray will be "O Lamb of God," and "Marvelous Grace." The former will play eighteen instruments in the presentation, including his century-old cornet and 32-inch "triumphal trumpet" which will be used to herald the "resurrection of the Messiah."

Two Ordered To Leave

Two men charged with panhandling were ordered out of town this morning by Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Haezn.

Edward Kuhaneck, 35, and David Jack, 42, both of New York City were arrested on W. Center St. at 10:40 a.m. yesterday. Judge Hazen fined them each $25 and costs and suspended the fine and costs on condition they leave town immediately.

PARENTS NEED ROOM FOR THEM. County adoption officials said in Los Angeles that the parents of these six children, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Colson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, had asked about putting the children up for adoption because the family is being evicted from hotel rooms. Officials said they dissuaded Colsons from making any adoption plans. The family came to California three weeks ago; Colson is employed at an aircraft plant. Left to right: Phillip, 4; David, 6; Jerry, 9; Warren, 15 months; Millard, 11, and Milissa, 2½.

Prepaid Sales Tax Receipts Drop in County

Prepaid sales tax receipts in Marion County for the week ending Nov. 21 totaled $18,442, a decrease of $7,159 from the $25,601 total recorded in the corresponding week in 1952, the state treasurer's office reported today.

However, receipts for the period July 1 to date totaled $414,265, an increase of $31,487 from the $382,778 total reported for the corresponding period last year.

Statewide receipts for the week ending Nov. 21 were $3,513,365, an increase of $234,531 over the $3,278,833 totaled recorded in the same week last year.

A statewide gain of $8,299,600 was reported for the first 21 weeks of fiscal 1953 (July 1 to date), the treasurer's office reported. The figures were $75,606,861 this year and $67,307,252 last year.

State treasurer Roger W. Tracy said a substantial portion of the eight-million dollar gain over last year's first 21 weeks is due to the continuing brisk activity in the field of retail automotive sales and casual sales of used motor vehicles and house trailers by one individual to another.

Applying the sales tax formula for calculating retail sales volume of all of Ohio's 220,000 licensed vendors, Tracy said that merchants in this state have retailed $2,517,679,800 worth of taxable merchandise during this fiscal year's first 21 weeks as compared with $2,241,323,100 for the same period last year.

Receipts reported by surrounding counties for the period ending Nov. 21, 1953 with last year's figures in parenthes were: Crawford, $16,435 ($13,253); Delaware, $5,592 ($6,777); Hardin, $5,757 ($6,957); Morrow $3,254 ($2,958); Union $5,202 ($4,950); and Wyandot, $4,669 ($4,200).

that most of the 20 Latin American member nations have indicated they would support it.

The recess question is slated to come before the committee as soon as it winds up discussion of the evacuation of Nationalist Chinese forces from Burma, in debate today.

Would Save Time

Delegates favoring a recess pointed out that it would avoid the time loss and red tape that would be required if the Assembly were adjourned and a special session had to be called to act on Korea or some other major problem.

Observers viewed the plan as a compromise by the United States, Britain and other powers. They formerly were reported in favor of adjournment, fearing a recess might inspire the Reds to stir things up in Korea for the purpose of forcing the Assembly to reconvene.

Wildlife Council Is Pressed for Action On Stream Cleanup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Wildlife Council will take no action until January on recommendations by fishermen who asked the state to intensify its efforts to rid streams of pollution.

The recommendations were made yesterday by fishermen from several parts of Ohio who appeared at the council's annual public hearing. The council decided it would not act on the recommendations until its January meeting.

Among the recommendations was one from Columbiana County sportsmen asking that the state fish management section investigate and correct the pollution of Ashtabula and Grand rivers.

Similar recommendations were entered concerning pollution in the Maumee, Blanchard and Sandusky rivers.

Some other recommendations:

That the Pennsylvania Fish commission be asked to open the season on black bass in Pymatuning Lake on May 15 each year. The lake is partly in Ohio and partly in Pennsylvania.

That more parking sites and boat launching sites for fishermen be built along the Lake Erie shoreline between Toledo and Port Clinton.

That accommodations for hook and line fishermen be provided at Muddy Creek on Ohio 53 and throughout the state.

That markers of some sort be installed in the Point Place - Bay Point-Turtle Island sector indicating the Ohio-Michigan line.

McCarthy

said in this unprepared part of his statement. "I think he will follow the will of the American people if that will is made known to him."

The administration's position is that the British and other Western nations have stopped sending to Red China all goods which could be used to wage war. Such trade as the West is conducting with the Chinese Communists, in the administration's view, is advantageous to the free world.

McCarthy rejected this viewpoint and demanded "we refuse to give any American dollars to any nation shipping any goods to Communist China so long as a single American remains in a Communist blood-stained dungeon."

In yesterday's statement McCarthy moved to take some of the sting out of his earlier criticism of the administration. There were reports, which couldn't be pinned down, that he rewrote the new statement and toned it down to make it more palatable to the White House.

He said the administration has made "a fine record" in weeding out subversives on the government payroll—though he'd said previously the administration had "struck out" in a few such cases.

Zanesville Judge Rules Against Police Officer

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Judge Robert J. Merry has ruled a law officer of a village can be held criminally liable for discharging a firearm upon a public highway outside his village.

He made the ruling yesterday in fining Charles Elder, 46, police chief of South Zanesville, $15 and costs on a charge brought by Bobby Mock, 21. Mock said Elder fired on his car near the South Zanesville corporation limit Sept. 26 to stop him for a traffic violation.

Elder's attorney said he would appeal. Merry's ruling said a "peace officer . . . can be held liable . . . when it does not appear (he) is in the act of arresting or pursuing a felon."

Six hundred waterfront workers massed outside the hearing room in reponse to a stop work call by Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, which is protesting identification by committee witnesses of several Bridges' aides as Communists.

The committee cleared out spectators—including many of the longshoremen—when applause burst from the rear for a defiant witness. He was Robert Treuhaft, labelled by Blodgett as a Communist and onetime law partner of Condon, and an ILWU counsel. Treuhaft refused to testify, and harangued the committee.

Fifth Cleveland TV Station May Start in August

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's fifth television station—an ultra-high frequency station to operate on Channel 19 from WHK's big Euclid avenue radio broadcasting center—may be on the air by August.

The Federal Communications Commission yesterday awarded the United Broadcasting Co., WHK operator, authority to construct the ultra-high frequency station.

The city's three existing stations-WXEL, WNBK and WEWS—all are in very high frequency, and six months ago the FCC issued the Cleveland Broadcasting Co. (WERE) a permit to operate the first UHF station on Channel 65.

Sterling E. Graham, president of the United Broadcasting Co. and its parent company, the Forest City Publishing Co., publisher of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Cleveland News, said WHK-TV hopes "to be in operation by the end of the eight-month construction period granted by the FCC."

Strange Object Is Sighted in Sky Over Youngstown

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—Another report of a strange object high over Youngstown came today from the night supervisor at the nearby Calcutta Ground Observer Corps Station.

Mrs. Theodore Ashbaugh said the air filter center at Canton alerted the observer station at 5:30 p. m. yesterday to watch for an object about the size of a bushel basket and trailing a bright stream of light.

At 10 p. m., Mrs. Ashbaugh said, the center advised that the object had been seen traveling about a mile high over Youngstown, but that jet interceptors, based at Youngstown, were unable to catch it.

A spokesman for the filter center today confirmed there had been such an alert, but declined to elaborate.

The superintendent will move to Erie, Pa., on that day, where he will be associated with a hospital consultation firm at a sizeable increase in salary over his position here. He came to Galion four years ago from Fostoria, where he also was superintendent of a hospital.

Economy Cited By Lausche in Election Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov Frank J. Lausche today ordered special elections to fill vacancies in the General Assembly to coincide with the regular primary and general election next year.

The governor said he acted to avoid earlier special elections because they would cost approximately $804,600. The Legislature has 10 current or prospective vacancies among its 169 members.

Lausche acted after he said Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill told him the Ohio Supreme Court probably would order him to set special election dates in acting on a pending mandamus suit.

Richard B. Kay, Cleveland attorney, asked the court to order the special elections in a suit filed Nov. 18. The court set Dec. 18 as an answer date for Lausche.

Counties having vacancies or expecting them are Hamilton, Cuyahoga, Mahoning, Preble, Sandusky and Lucas.

Of the special call, Lausche said in a prepared statement:

"Contrary to my will I have set the date for nomination of candidates and their subsequent election, respectively, on the regular primary and election days in the year of 1954.

"To have chosen special dates at an earlier time . . would have entailed an extravagant cost of $804,600 . . .

"My choice was either to spend $804,600 of the taxpayers money and have the elections at a very early date or on the other hand, the $804,600 could be saved by having the successors chosen on the regular election days of the year 1954 to serve nominally for the period of six weeks.

"My conclusion is that it would be better to suffer the ridicule that might come from having the successors being paid for six weeks of idleness while nominally serving as legislators while the General Assembly is not in session than to extravagantly spend $804,600 of the taxpayers money."

Worthy indeed is Christ of our highest praise and most sincere worship at this another Christmas season. The medium of music is one of of the outstanding ways in which we may join in bringing our adoration to Him. Handel's "Messiah" takes golden gems of Bible truth relating to the panorama of Christ's coming, ministry, passion, and triumph, and clothes them with the unsurpassed grandeur and sublimity of the thrilling music of his famous Oratorio. Let one of the ways in which you "keep Christ in Christmas" this year be your witnessing of the presentation of the "Messiah," by outstanding talent, on Sunday evening, December 6th.

Comic Wants More Humor in Politics

NEW YORK (AP)—Politics always has produced some of the nation's greatest unconscious comedians.

But Henny Youngman, "the comic's comic," has a new idea. On the theory that a good pro can always beat an amateur, he thinks it's time to bring a few conscious career comedians into government.

"The people can't help but benefit," he said. "And they'll at least get something new to laugh at.

"What I have in mind is that these comedians will be something like the king's jester in the old days. When the regular government jokers—or the appointed diplomats—get their skulls all heated up in debate, you call a 15-minute break and bring in a professional comic to cool both sides off.

"Any comic who can't make a crowd laugh in 15 minutes is in the wrong business — or maybe needs a couple of new writers. Anyway, the diplomats get a few laughs while they are resting their brains during this time out, and maybe when they start arguing again they'll make more sense because they've got less steam in their heads."

Youngman, who has originated so many jokes that even Milton Berle can't remember them all, feels staff government comedians would be particularly useful right now in the United Nations and to settle major labor disputes.

"Look how many strikes you might prevent," he said, "if the guys barking at each other across a table would stop and share a belly laugh."

Henny, who says he hasn't bothered to copyright his idea, offered to guinea pig the experiment himself and become the first U.S. federal government comedian, "provided the pay is right, and naturally I get a free hand in picking my staff—and top billing, of course.

"I even got a few hundred jokes ready. No, I won't give you any samples. I don't want to tip my mitt."

Like most professional comedians today, Youngman, Brooklyn's gift to the world of japery, feels the nation has let a lot of moss cover its funnybone in recent years.

"People are hungry for a chance to laugh," he said, "but now they feel they have to have a reason. That's why practical jokes are coming back. People got so they resented them. Now they enjoy a practical joke again—as long as it is really funny, and not cruel."

Are practical jokes ever anything but cruel?

"Why sure," said Henny. "If you want to cobweb a guy, really mix him up, you just send him a telegram saying, 'ignore first wire.'

"Oh, take another example. Suppose you go through a toll bridge. Well, you pay for the guy in the car behind you. He'll drive 50 miles trying to find out who you are and why you paid for him."

Henny said in his vaudeville days a prank was to sneak into another performer's room, fill his bathtub with hot water and pour in several packages of Jello.

It'd take him days to get all that Jello out of the tub," recalled Henny, and added reflectively: "If times were tough, he might even decide to eat it."

Henny's other favorite gag was to have a friend at a nearby restaurant table summoned to the phone and then put by his plate a printed card saying, "The management requests that you please leave quietly."

Well, fellow voters, it's up to you. If you want a paid practical joker in government, just wire your congressman. But will he want any professional competition?

If the earth were reduced to the size of a billiard ball it would be not quite as smooth as a standard billiard ball.

Peace Hope Appears Remote

Skepticism Underlies Meeting of Big 3

by JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Premier Laniel of France have granted the heart's desire of the grand old man of the West, Sir Winston Churchill: a meeting with them in Bermuda, due to start today.

But there is no world excitement about it, because this is only a Big Three conference, and not a Big Four conference with Russia's Premier Malenkov.

Without Malenkov the Big Three can't agree on peace. The most they can do is talk about a way to find it, if the Russians are ever agreeable, and meanwhile try to strengthen their defenses.

By the end of the Bermuda meeting Eisenhower, Churchill and Laniel may announce their willingness to have a Big Four foreign ministers conference in Berlin, perhaps in January. Russia has agreed to such a meeting.

If that conference turned out all right, maybe later Malenkov would be invited to get together with Eisenhower, Churchill and the French Premier.

That's stretching optimism pretty far. The mood in Washington now seems to be one of skepticism about any great progress coming out of the ministers' meeting.

Why hold it at all, then? "Some pretty good reasons can be offered.

For one thing, the West doesn't want to appear—in the eyes of its own people and allies and the rest of the world—to be turning its back on even such a remote chance for peace as might emerge at Berlin.

If Berlin did pave the road for progress toward peace with Russia, fine. But if Molotov stalled, it would strengthen the Eisenhower administration's contention the Russians talk peace but won't prove it by deeds.

And there's a further consideration. This country and Britain have been anxious to have France join a single European army which would also include West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

And any kind of rearmed Germany is what most of the French don't want. The French hold national elections this month. Laniel can't promise the French Parliament will approve joining the single European army.

In the first place, he may be out of office after the election. And in the second place, the French certainly won't vote on joining that army until after the election.

And, finally, the French seem to keep hoping that somehow, someway, the cold war with Russia can be relaxed or ended, thus eliminating any need for such a single European army.

But if there is a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and it demonstrates to the French that in the foreseeable future there is no hope of understanding with Russia, then maybe they would get into the one army with Germany.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined slightly today in a quiet manner.

Few features appeared in a market that seemed to be a typical Friday affair with traders and others more concerned with the coming weekend holiday than with the immediate business at hand.

Gains and losses spread out over a range of minor fractions either way with a few more minus signs in evidence.

Higher stocks include Studebaker Douglas Aircraft, Philco, Consolidated Natural Gas, and Anaconda Copper. Lower were Du Pont, General Electric, Southern Railway, and Northern Pacific.

CIO Hears Bitter Attack On Brownell, McCarthy

CINCINNATI (AP) — James B. Carey, national secretary-treasurer of the CIO, lashed today at what he called "McCarthyism and Brownellism."

Carey, who also is president of the CIO United Electrical Workers, singled out U.S. Sen. McCarthy (R—Wis.); Atty Gen. Herbert Brownell; President Eisenhower and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as he devoted his speech prepared for delivery before the Ohio CIO convention to the Harry Dexter White case and its ramifications.

He called "McCarthyism" an "evil cancer on the body politic" and added:

"Today McCarthyism is a coldly calculated political device by which the reactionaries hope to maintain big business control of our government for an endless period."

Charging Brownell with having made a "disgraceful attack" on the patriotism of former President Truman in the White case, Carey said, "Brownellism . . . is only McCarthyism with a cultured accent."

Of the President, Carey said, "it is clear that President Eisenhower isn't running the Republican party."

The press also came in for Carey's criticism.

"Nor is Brownellism and President Eisenhower's weakness the only danger sign on the horizon," he said.

"Another clear and significant danger lies in the manner in which the reactionary press has attempted to portray FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as the infallible custodian of all justice in America. J. Edgar Hoover, in his testimony before the Jenner committee, brought the FBI down to the level of cheap gutter politics."

Carey declared the congressional election in California "was the only reason the White case was dragged out of the FBI files."

"The Republicans wanted to win an election," he said. "They wanted to win so badly that Mr. Brownell was willing to smear the reputation of a former president of the United States."

Governor Silent on Special Session of State Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has given no indication he will heed the request of two state control board members who want a special session of the state Legislature to consider a north-south Ohio turnpike.

The request was made by Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R—Muskingum), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. J. Frank McClure (R—Ashland), chairman of the House Finance Committee.

Refusal of the two to approve release of funds has held up a proposed survey of a north-south super highway similar to the east-west turnpike now under construction across northern Ohio.

Moorehead and McClure asked for the session in a letter to the governor. They said they disapproved the request for funds for a survey because, "We feel that this matter should have been presented to the entire general assembly while we were in session."

State Highway Director S. O. Linzell some time ago presented the control board with a request for $650,000 for the turnpike survey. He later urged the board to make available $90,000 for a preliminary survey.

The extra session requested by Moorehead and McClure presumably would coincide with the mandatory Jan. 11 meeting of the Legislature to act on the Ohio constitutional amendment voted Nov. 3. The amendment made possible the issuance of a half billion dollars in bonds to finance highway construction.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Acting upon a suggestion by the Bucyrus Junior Chamber of Commerce, city Council adopted an ordinance at its meeting Tuesday night requiring door latches to be removed from iceboxes or refirgerators which are to be left unattended outdoors.

The ordiance was passed unanimously and provides a fine of $50 for violators with each day of violation consitiuting a separate offense.

The ordinance declares that numerous accidents and deaths have resulted from unattended iceboxes and refrigerators. Under terms of the measure, no container, which has an airtight door or lock, which cannot be opened from the inside, may be stored or abandoned in any outside area, which is accessible to children. If the snap lock, hasp or doors are removed, the containers can be left unattended outside.

Gouzenko Sees Difference in Attitude on Espionage

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Igor Gouzenko, as he ponders repeated bids for his testimony about Red fifth columns in North America, must recall a night of terror in 1945 when he could convince no one that such a thing existed.

The State Department yesterday asked the Canadian government to arrange an interview between Gouzenko and Sen Jenner (R—Ind) and Robert Morris, chairman and counsel, respectively, of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

Gouzenko has been living in Canada under an alias and with police protection since, as a Russian code clerk at the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, he exposed a Red spy ring operating in Canada in 1945 with contacts in the United States.

In a note to the Canadian Embassy, the State Department emphasized that Jenner's subcommittee would abide by Canada's decision as to what part of Gouzenko's testimony, if any, could be made public.

Accepted also were Canada's other terms: (1) that the interview must be under Canadian auspices, and (2) that Gouzenko must be willing to risk his police-guarded obscurity by testifying.

The State Department said it has no official word on the latter. But in an announcement, which indicated the meeting might already have been arranged, it said:

"In view of the necessity of protecting Mr. Gouzenko's security, the arrangements concerning the time and place of the meeting cannot of course be made public."

If he read that, Gouzenko perhaps thought back to a different time and place. Back to Sept. 5, 1945, when he was not a naturalized Canadian with a craving for anonymity. Back to when he was Igor Gouzenko, a native citizen of Russia and, at 26, a Red army lieutenant especially trained to decipher codes.

The picture of him then is dramatically painted in "The Report of the Royal Commission," a 733-page paper-backed volume published by Canada June 27, 1946.

The report summed up the hearings in early 1946 of a royal commission before which, Gouzenko was star witness and accuser. More than a dozen Canadians testified. Some of them were later convicted in the courts on espionage charges.

Gouzenko, the report says, had been having a struggle with himself. He had been ordered back to Russia after serving two years at the Ottawa embassy. He did not want to go. He wanted to live in Canada with his wife and child. For the first time, he said, he had discovered freedom—in the store windows full of things anybody could buy, and in elections where more than one candidate stood for office.

So he began dog-earing some of the documents in the files of the Russian Embassy—damning evidence of a spy ring involving atomic secrets and Canadian government employes. About 7 p.m. on Sept. 5, 1945, he picked up the papers he had marked and walked out of the embassy.

Then, says the report, he went to a newspaper with his story and, the next day, to various official offices, but "he was unable . . . to have anyone accept him seriously."

The report does not name the newspaper or the offices.

What was he to do? He knew the embassy would be looking for him. He went back to his apartment with his wife and son. As he entered the apartment house, he thought he saw two figures lurking in the shadows across the street.

Inside, he sat quietly and tried to think. There was a knock on the door. He did not answer it. Perhaps, if he made no noise, they would go away . .

But then, as children will, his son scrambled across the floor. The man at the door spoke. Gouzenko recognized the voice of Under Lt. Lavrientev, a driver for the embassy's military attache.

Gouzenko reacted instinctively. He went out the back door to a balcony onto which opened other apartments. He begged his neighbors to care for his son if anything happened to him and his wife.

One neighbor, a woman whose husband was away for the night, took the Gouzenkos in. Another, a Royal Canadian Air Force noncommissioned officer, got out his bicycle and rode for the police.

The Canadian Mounties arrived but the Russian driver had disappeared. They set up a watch, telling Gouzenko to leave the bathroom light burning in his neighbor's apartment unless something went wrong. If the light went out, the Mounties were to come up from the street and investigate.

Around midnight four men knocked on Gouzenko's empty apartment. Getting no answer, they broke the lock of the door and entered The RCAF man heard the noise and sounded the alarm. The Mounties closed in.

They found the Russians, including the head of the NKVD (Soviet secret police) unit in Canada, ransacking Gouzenko's apartment The bashed-in lock was on the floor.

From then on, Gouzenko and his family—there is now another child—were under the Mounties' protective guard.

The Soviet Embassy sent the apartment house $5 to pay for the lock.

New Galion Mayor Will Abolish Post

Special to The Star

GALION — A notice went out Wednesday to R. W. Barkley, superintendent of utilities, that his position will be abolished by Francis C. Schalip, mayor-elect, when he takes office Jan. 1.

Schalip stated that duties which the superintendent has been assuming will be distributed among other presently - employed city workers.

Barkley came to Galion July 1, 1950, from Frankfort, Ind., where he was superintendent of the city light and power plant for seven years. Prior to that time, he was president of Barkley Electric Co. of Cincinnati.

Barkley was receiving an annual salary of $8,400 here.

Accident Reported In Morrow County

One accident in Morrow County was investigated Thursday by state patrolmen from the Marion post. Following the investigation, one of the motorists was arrested. He was fined by Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead on a charge of driving left of center.

At 9:25 p.m., a car driven by Forest Craddock, 40, of Akron and a housetrailer being pulled by a truck driven by David C. Schrader, 24, of Philadelphia, Pa. collided about four and one-half miles north of Mt. Gilead on U. S. Route 42.

Minor damage was done to the left front corner and side of the housetrailer, while moderate damage was done to the entire left side of the Craddock car.

Craddock was arrested and fined $10 and costs.

Galionites Request Bridge Relocation

Special to The Star

GALION—Relocation of the proposed $56,000 bridge over the Olentangy Creek on Route 598 at the North State Road in Galion is being asked of the Ohio Highway Construction Council. Petition for the request is being circulated by a group of local citizens.

The project was announced Tuesday by the construction council. It would improve and widen the creek crossing which is 100 feet north of U. S. Route 30-S.

The Galion residents are asking that the creek bed be re-channeled to cross Route 598 a thousand feet northward to eliminate the constant flood of land in the vicinity of the intersection of Route 598 and 30-S, and the land immediately north of the intersection. The petition states that with every hard rain the spring high waters back up mostly because of the 90-degree bends in the present creek bed, forcing water through the ground into basements of homes west of Gill Ave.

Re-routing of the creek bed also would make it possible for the city to extend Church St. through to North State Road, and eliminate through-city traffic.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

GALION—Calvin R. Walker, 63, of Galion suffered injuries when his pickup truck left the road and sheared off a utility pole. The accident happened Wednesday afternoon on Route 602, one mile south of North Robinson. He suffered a bruised left side and right leg and slight head abrasions. The front of the truck was demolished.

Henrietta is a little girl who lives in a teeny tiny house with her parents, grandparents, two uncles and two aunts. They are very poor with barely enough foor for themselves, much less the little puppy Henrietta found one day and wants to keep for Christmas? Her father doesn't see how Willie can live with them, but Henrietta pleads . . .

CHAPTER TWO

Henrietta wept when her father said she could not keep Willie.

"He won't cost anything!" she cried. "You will never know he is here."

The father said, "Keep him, then, and you will see."

So Henrietta kept Willie and that is the way things went in the tiny crowded house where the family was so poor.

Willie ate.

EACH MEALTIME he ate half of everything on Henrietta's plate and begged for more. He drank all her milk. He cried for more.

When grandmama left a loaf of bread on a shelf Willie pawed it down and devoured it. When grandpapa left a little bag of groceries on a chair Willie fished out a soup bone—meant to feed the family for two days. Willie hid under the house and stripped the bone clean.

When uncle went in the ice box for a bit of jam Willie went in too and knocked out the bowl holding the week's supply of eggs. Happily Willie licked up the mess.

Besides eating, Willie chewed.

—:—

HE CHEWED out the linings of the father's shoes when he took them off at night. He shredded a blanket hanging from a bed. He gnawed the edges of the one rug in the house. He jumped in the bath tub and chewed a hole in the spray. He went in the pantry and chewed the straws off the broom.

Besides eating and chewing Willie frolicked.

In pure joy he raced through the house. He tripped up the father who came in with a heavy load of wood. He twirled between the feet of the grandmama as she dusted the table. He played merry-go-round the mother as she scrubbed the kitchen floor.

As he romped, the tattered rug was tossed into a heap behind his flying feet. Curtains were pulled from windows, lamps broken, scrub buckets knocked over, torn wall paper stripped from the walls.

He Played Merry-Go-Round the Mother as She Scrubbed the Kitchen Floor

—:—

BESIDES EATING and chewing and frolicking, Willie cried.

When they put him outdoors to save the house, Willie cried so loud and so sorrowfully the police complained. When they shut him up in the kitchen, he cried so brokenheartedly the neighbors complained. When they shut him in the basement the whole family complained because he cried so dreadfully that no one in the house could sleep at all.

But Henrietta never noticed the awful bother and expense of Willie.

"You are all the Christmas we need at our house," she whispered to Willie as he snuggled beside her in bed. The puppy chewed absently at Henrietta's tattered night dress. He paused now and then to lick her face.

"You are my only friend," murmured the girl. "I'll never be lonesome again."

After a while Henrietta and Willie fell asleep. They were happy.

—:—

BUT OUT in the kitchen the father talked to the rest of the family.

"You see how it is," he said. "We can't afford a dog in this house."

The mother who had scrubbed and scrubbed behind Willie had to agree. The uncles and aunts who had had their poor clothing ripped by Willie had to agree. Grandmama and grandpapa who had been tripped up again and again by Willie had to agree.

Then they all thought of the precious food that had been poured into Willie and they all sighed and said, "Yes, the dog must go."

So the father tiptoed into the room where Henrietta lay asleep on her little cot with the dog beside her. The father stood looking down at the girl and the puppy for a long time. He hated what he had to do.

At last he reached down and gently picked up the sleepy pup. Willie woke and dreamily licked the father's cheek. Then he went back to sleep.

The father put on his hat and carried Willie out of the house.

Oppose Extra Expense

Rural Areas Keep Tabs On Highway Financing

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Any attempt to bypass state officials on the sinking fund commission in the sale of highway bonds will meet stiff rural opposition in the Jan.11 session of the Legislature.

And, should new truck and gasoline taxes fail to yield enough to retire bonds, ruralities will buck any attempt to take a disproportionate share of other tax allocations from them to make bond payments.

A rural bloc leader in the House of Representatives who asked to remain anonymous passed along that word today.

He said legislators from predominantly rural counties were concerned over reports of plans to have some other agency issue 500 million dollars worth of bonds approved by voters in the Nov. 3 election.

House members, he explained, felt that course would boost normally high bond issue expense needlessly and leave less money to build roads.

Voters approved the bond issue to speed arterial road construction. But big city counties turned in majorities to offset defeat of the proposal in 40 rural counties. A total of 48 favorable counties, some of them by close margins, gave the bond issue an official 359,373 vote edge.

The final count was 1,035,869 for the bond issue to 676,496 against changing the state Constitution to permit the program.

Word from the legislative service commission indicates fears of rural legislators may be groundless. The commission is drafting laws on which the General Assembly will act to get bonds issued and the road program rolling.

Executive Director John Skipton said his commission's "present thinking is to have the sinking fund commission issue the bonds and contract with bankers to sell and service them.

But a former attorney general said the Legislature may have to revise the sinking fund law to conform with the Constitution before doing that.

Constitutional changes in 1947 authorized bonuses for World War II veterans and enlarged the sinking fund commission. One amendment added the governor and state treasurer to the commission then composed of the secretary of state, auditor and attorney general.

The Legislature in 1949 changed the sinking fund law to eliminate a specified salary for a commission clerk. In doing so members omitted the governor and treasurer from the commission, a slip that went unnoticed until the former state official recently checked the statute.

Difficulties over Ohio's new axle-tax on trucks keep some legislators wondering whether revenues will approach expectations. Many of them were apprehensive when the Republican-controlled Legislature passed the tax with the blessings of Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

A number of states have objected to the tax on their trucks using Ohio roads. Some have threatened to withdraw reciprocity on other motor vehicle levies for Ohioans unless the Buckeye state exempts trucks from those states from the axle-mile levy.

Lausche refuses such exemptions and indicates he will stand pat.

Egypt To Be Neutral Until Suez Issue Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egypt has served notice it will adopt a policy of neutrality in the cold war unless the Western Big Three find a formula at Bermuda to meet Egyptian demands for control of the Suez Canal.

Diplomatic officials disclosed that Eyptian Ambassador Ahmed Hussein notified Secretary of State Dulles of his country's attitude during a confidential meeting Tuesday.

Texas Girl's Grand Champion Steer Is Bought for $20,000

CHICAGO (AP) — "Lone Star," grand champion of the 54th International Livestock Exposition, sold at auction Thursday at a record $20 a pound.

The steer, owned and shown by Miss Sue White, 18-year-old 4H Club girl from Big Spring, Tex., was bought by Albert Pick, president of the American Hotel Assn. who also bought the previous record high-price steer in 1950.

The 1953 grand champion weighs about 1,015 pounds but its exact weight will not be known until it reaches the scale house. The steer is expected to bring Miss White better than $20,000.

Miss White hoped to resume her college education with the money realized from the sale of her purple ribbon winner.

Bible Words to Live by

ROMANS 8:28—"We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him, who are called according to his purpose." (RSV)

This is one of my favorite verses, though I find it difficult to believe. Most of us have experiences when stark tragedy seems to overtake us or people of our acquaintance, experiences when it is hard to believe that God is really working for good.

Yet I find it easier to believe this verse in this rendering than in the usual form which has it say: "all things work together for good." It is not some impersonal fate, not the universe as a whole, which works thus, but a God who is personal, loving, and almighty. Here is no facile optimism which says "every cloud has a silver lining," but a deep faith that the one who works with us for good is the eternal God whose purposes cannot fail.

The verse challenges me to work with such a Deity, and to be sure that I worship and serve Him with my own love.

Sycamore Couple Feted At Open House Program

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE — Nearly 250 relatives and friends offered congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregg at their home Sunday afternoon, Nov. 29, when they celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding with an open house reception. Assisting their parents in receiving were their two daughters, Mrs. Lucille Bell and Mrs. Alice Brown.

Those who presided at the table during the afternoon were five of the granddaughters, Mrs. Mary Etta Hemmerly, Miss Enza Bell Mrs. Janise Boehler, Mrs. Alice Lucille Homan and Miss Jacquelyn Dee Brown. Others who assisted were the women of the Progressive class of the Plankton Methodist Church. Among their many beautiful gifts was a family tree bearing the names of their 35 direct descendants. This was painted by a niece Mrs. Mabel (Gregg) Babcock.

All but four of the 18 granchildren were present and 11 of the 15 great-grandchildren were there.

INDUCTED AT TOLEDO

BUCYRUS — Service in the armed forces began Wednesday for seven Crawford County youths, representing the monthly quota of the county draft board. Gilead, a former Crawford County resident.

New Volume Gives Detailed History of Ohio

Publication of "A History of Ohio" as a contribution to the Ohio Sesquicentennial Year observance was announced today by the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society in Columbus.

The history was co-authored by Eugene H. Roseboom and Francis P. Weisenburger, professors of history at Ohio State University. It was a revised and revamped edition of their earlier Ohio history, published 19 years ago. Containing more than 300 illustrations in its 426 pages, the new history appeared in a four-color dust jacket. Dr. James H. Rodabaugh of the Historical Society staff was editor.

The volume is described by the Historical Society as presenting a concise and detailed account of the political, economic, social, religious, literary, and artistic life of Ohio from the time of the prehistoric Indians (Moundbuilders) to the present day. It describes the cultures of the Indians in Ohio before the Europeans came, and the efforts of the Moravian missionaries.

From that point in history, the book then presents the beginnings of American settlement and of territorial government under the Ordinance of 1787, the movement for statehood and organization of Ohio's government. It describes the life of the pioneers and their struggle to develop the state; the building of roads, canals, and railroads; the Civil War, and the rise of industry; the growth of great cities—Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Youngstown; the coming of the Irish and German immigrants, followed by those from eastern and southern Europe.

Twentieth century Ohio is strongly represented. That part tells of the tremendous growth of the state in population and wealth and of the vast expansion of industry and agriculture of the past 50 years. It includes the story of the 1913 flood, Ohio in World War I and II, and the depression years.

MAIL CHRISTMAS CHECKS

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus' four banks yesterday mailed out 1,349 Christmas Savings Club checks, bank officials reported today. Total of the checks was $100,676, an increase of $11,636 over the 1952 total while membership totaled 1,349 compared with 1,307 last year. The average account amounted to $74.63 this year, compared with $68.13 last year.

Program of Church Group Centers on Christmas Theme

A special Christmas program was presented and a dessert lunch was served when members of the Women's Guild of the First Evangelical and Reformed Church entertained guests Wednesday nigh at the church. A total of 86 members and guests were present. Card tables were arranged in the recreation room for the occasion and decorations were in keeping with the holiday season.

A special guest was Mrs. Harrison Ludwig of Marion, Indian Lake regional president of the Woman's Guild of the Reformed Church.

To open the meeting, Mrs. Ed Gorenflo, vice president, read two articles, "The Words of Jesus" and "My Christmas Prayer," after which prayer was led by Rev. J. Paul Goebel.

The program, in charge of Mrs. J. Paul Goebel, program chairman, was opened with a novelty number in costume, "The Key To My Heart," by Michael and Jeannette Williamson, after which they sang "Deck The Halls." A Christmas playlet, "Grandma's Christmas," was given by Mrs. Herman Wolschlag, Mrs. Robert Swisher, Mrs. George Washburn, who gave a reading, and Mrs. Donald Meddles, who sang "The Holy City." Taking part in a manger pantomime scene were Kay Quigley as Mary, David Washburn as Joseph, and Karen Griffith and Kathy Swisher as angels.

Concluding the program was a candlelight service with Mrs. Don Quigley, Mrs. Russell Cramer and Mrs. William Warner having speaking parts. As a part of the service, each one of the group lighted candles from a central candle and formed a circle, with Mrs. Donald Meddles singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem." While in the circle, the group sang "Joy To the World."

PROSPECT SERMON THEME

"Joy and Peace in Believing" will be the theme of the sermon Sunday morning at St. Paul Lutheran Church at Prospect. Christmas rehearsals will be Sunday at 2 p.m. and Thursday at 7:30. On Wednesday night, the Christmas meeting of the Luther League will be held with Ronald and Marilyn Wood entertaining. There will be election of officers and a gift exchange. Hostess for the Christmas meeting of the Missionary Aid Society Thursday afternoon will be Mrs. Elwood Almendinger. The annual linen shower for Grace Lutheran Sanatorium at San Antonio, Tex., will be held.

Hamor of Harding Named to All-Ohio Football Post

AraParseghian Praises Squad During Dinner

Bob Hamor and Freddie Price, a pair of defensive stars for the Harding High School football squad, were named honorary co-captains for the past season last night at he annual Harding football banquet.

The pair were elected by their mates prior to the dinner. Announcement was made during the meeting that Hamor, a first-string tackle for the Prexies for three years, had been named to a first string berth on the United Press All-Ohio defensive team.

Ara Parseghian, head grid coach at Miami University at Oxford, was guest speaker. He commended the Prexies on a successful season and praised the team play displayed by the gridders throughout the season.

Parseghian started his address by saying he was impressed with the spirit of the team when the school's fight song was shown. He complimented the city on the new Harding High School building. I've never seen a plant as lovely as this," he told the boys. He said he thought the school gave the team something to be proud of and something to fight for.

The Miami mentor, former gridder for the Cleveland Browns, admitted that athletics may be over emphasied in some locations but said he believed the over emphasis was mentioned too frequently.

He upheld athletics at the high school level and said the programs did a lot to help boys in later life. 'Carry-over' values received by a high school gridder are of big value in adult life he said. Football teaches several things he said. Loyalty, hardwork, respect for rules and the desire to excell were among the most important lessons taught by the game. Poise, confidence and courage were other points he listed.

Parseghian closed his address by warning the gridders to never let success turn their heads. "Always remember your friends," he said. "You might pass them on the way down. He also urged them to carry the lessons they learned on the gridiron into life. "A winner never quits and a quitter never wins," he closed.

The dinner was held in the cafeteria at Harding and was presided over by William Hamor, representative of the Harding Boosters Club.

Pete Howison, Prexy coach, presented 26 varsity letters. Nineteen of the letter winners will be back next season. Letters went to Hamor, Price, Bob Pryor, Doug Bibler, Whitey Clinger, Jim Whaley and John Obenour, seniors; Joe Albinack, Gene Armstrong, Gary Ballinger, Bob Caldwell, Frank D'Eramo, Fred Hazen, Larry Harper, Chet King, Bob Prater, Hank Rinnert, Joe Snouffer, Bob Stauffer, Don Schweinfurth, Larry Sage., and Abner Thomas, juniors; and Ted Firstenberger, Ton Hazen, Gary Huber and Dave Tounsend, sophomores.

J. H. Smith of the Harding faculty gave the invocation and group singing was led by L. G. Jones, director of vocal music.

Hamor introduced the assistant coaches, Jim Lawler, Al Beach, Lou Ralston and Don Kay, and each gave a brief talk.

Howison, in presenting the letters, complimented each member of the squad. He said it had been a pleasure to work with the group and said there was no individual star on the squad. "It was just a lot of good kids who played a lot of good football," he told the audience.

The coaching staff was presented gifts from the team by Doug Bibler at the conclusion of the program.

Lloyd 'Punkie' Williams, former All-Ohio lineman at Harding and now a member of the Miami team, was present at the banquet. Parseghian praised him for his work with the Redskins and said the Marion ace was 'burning with desire'. He told the group he told Howison he would be glad to welcome all the players 'like Punkie that you can send me.'

In addition to the football letters, the Harding cheerleading crew also received awards for its work during the past season.

The awards went to Beverly McCurdy, a senior and captain of the squad, Sherry Caris, a senior, and Sue Foreman and Judy Stein, both juniors.

The average depth of the ocean is 12,450 feet says the National Geographic Society.

Whaley Given Mention Also On Select List

Bob Hamor, Harding High School's tough 185-pound senior lineman, was placed at a guard position on the United Press All-Ohio defensive team in selections announced late yesterday by the UP.

A teammate, Jim Whaley, received honorable mention at an end spot. Hamor went both ways for the Prexies and played a big part in the success of this year's Harding team.

He led the Harding line which posted its best defensive mark in years and led the way offensively for the Presidents, who posted a 6-2-1 record the past season, the best in several seasons.

Dave Kuenzli of Upper Sandusky, the state's scoring leader, was named "Back of The Year" after receiving more votes than any other back in the state. The 182-pound senior was the big gun in this year's Ram team, scoring 227 points on touchdowns and extra points and also handling the passing chores.

Massillon's Ron Agnes, 175, was named lineman of the year. Upper Sandusky's Keith Quail was named to the second team as an offensive guard. Quail, a senior, was the strong point in the Ram line and led the way for Kuenzli's long gallops.

Hamor was joined by Dan Fronk of Dover, a 165-pound senior, at the other guard position on the All-State defensive squad. Other first team defensive selections included Harold Offenberger of Marietta, 160-pound senior, and Leo Brown of Portsmouth, 170-pound senior, at the ends; Bruce Schram of Massillon, 195-pound senior, and Jim Riffle of Warren Harding, 198-pound senior, at tackles; Bill VanBuren of Lorain, 200-pound senior, at center; Dave Preston of Warren Harding, 182-pound senior, at quarterback; John Traylor of Massillon, 160 pound senior, and Leroy Carr of Portsmouth at halfbacks; and Gene Baldwin of Defiance, 175-pound senior, at fullback.

The All-State offensive team also was made up of all seniors. Selections included Jim Letcavits of Massillon, 180, and Martin Testa of Akron St. Vincent, 175, at ends; Bill Kerr of Steubenville, 195, and Ron Couch of Hamilton, 186, at tackles; Ron Agnes of Massillon, 175, and Tom Cooper of Fremont Ross, 185, at guards; Joe Fillippo of Lancaster, 215, at center; Don Zimmerman of Dayton Chaminade, 150, at quarterback: Dave Kuenzli of Upper Sandusky, 182, and John Francisco of Massillon, 180, at halfbacks; and Jack Nichols of Canton Lehman, 205, at fullback.

Dan McBride of Ashland was placed at a guard on the second string defensive team. Honorable mentions were gained by Fox of Marysville and Lenhard of Fremont Ross, ends; Bump of Marysville, Jones of Fremont Ross and Hauser of Fostoria, tackles; and Black of Fremont Ross, Franks of Fremont Ross and Butterman of Bucyrus, backs.

Waldo, Panther Win at Armory

The Masked Marvel, Scotty Williams and the tag team of the Black Panther and Ricky Waldo were winners in the Thursday night wrestling matches at the Marion Armory.

Jim Lewis lost to the Masked Marvel in 25 minutes in the first match. The winner had applied a full nelson on Lewis, who then kicked off the ropes, landing on the back of his head with the Masked Marvel under him, and was counted down.

Williams won the first fall of his match with Irish Mike McGee with a body grapevine in 18 minutes but McGee 10 minutes later evened it up with a hammerlock. Then Williams took advantage of McGee as he began to argue with the referee and won with a body grapevine in only two minutes.

The first fall of the tag team match went to Ricky Waldo and the Black Panther. Waldo got the fall in 22 minutes with a crab hold on Sandro Fozo. Dutch Schultz and Fozo were disqualified by referee Cowboy Curry in the second fall for roughing up the Black Panther in their corner and not breaking at the count. Eleven minutes had elapsed.

Barons Drop 2-0 Decision in Louisville Duel

Stars Notch First Shutout Despite Club's Dissension

Special to The Star

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Marion's Barons ran into a hornets nest of dissension here last night but became Louisville's first shutout victim of the season by 2-0 as the Stars played their first game under their new player-coach Ray Marshall.

Marshall Wednesday night replaced Alex Wood as pilot of the Stars after a disagreement between two factions on the team.

The Stars were minus three players last night. They included Marshall, who suffered a broken nose in a fight with Stars' captain Bob Palmer, and defenseman Bernie Hill. Palmer and Hill quit the team after the incident and were suspended.

The remaining 11 men, however, turned in the most brilliant performance of the season here to help Goalie Guy LeClerc preserve his shutout.

The game was only 3:15 along when a new Star addition, Whit Mousseau, late of the Toledo Mercurys, banged in a 25-footer to make it 1-0.

Then, after 16:19 of the second period, Phil Dalgleish rapped in a rebound from close in and that was all the scoring.

However, the Barons tried desperately during the final period and only several miraculous saves by LeClerc prevented Marion from scoring.

A slim crowd of 1,514 paid saw the game.

Contract Extended

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Victory-happy Auburn has rewarded Coach Ralph Jordan for bringing the Tigers their best football season since 1935 by extending his contract until Jan. 1, 1960.

Auburn accepted a Gator Bowl invitation after winning seven games, losing two and tying Mississippi State this fall in Jordan's third season as the Tiger gridiron boss.

Adelphi Wins 83-76

Francis Hits for 32; Rio's Win Streak Stopped at 40

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—It's hard to think of a basketball player as a flop when he scores 32 points in his New York debut but Bevo Francis, the scoring sensation from Rio Grande College, is mighty unhappy about his first game at Madison Square Garden.

"I don't blame anybody. I just had an off night," he said dejectedly in his dressing room last night after Rio Grande had suffered its first loss in 41 games, 83-76 to Adelphi College of Garden City, N. Y.

"We played our worst game," agreed Coach Newt Oliver, who has guided Bevo and the tiny Ohio school to national basketball prominence. "I don't know why we had to pick this one to play so poorly."

Francis, a gangling 6-9 sophomore, averaged 50.1 points per game last season against a mixture of small colleges, business schools and junior colleges. Last night was his biggest test.

He had been averaging 50 to 60 shots a game but against a collapsing zone defense which literally put him in a cage during the second half he managed just 26 attempts. He connected on 10.

"Our defense hurt us most," Oliver said. "We let them shoot from outside and they hit everything in sight. I don't make Bevo play defense much, anyhow not a tight one. I can't afford to let him foul. I don't even have another center."

"I wasn't nervous," Bevo declared. "We just couldn't get going. I'd like to play them again tomorrow night. We're 20 points better than they are. They gave me a pretty good going over but I didn't get tired. I'm not even tired now."

The crowd of 13,832 cheered Francis in defeat and the door of the Rio Grande dressing room was jammed with autograph seekers.

The consensus of the experts seemed to be that Francis is a good shot, but that he would be a much more valuable man if he fought harder for rebounds and played a tighter defense.

Bevo was asked what he thought about meeting North Carolina State, one of the nation's best teams, later this month.

"I don't think about 'em aforehand," he said. "I'll play 'em when we get there."

In the other half of the Garden's first college double-header of the season, St. John's of Brooklyn outlasted Lafayette 66-61.

Elsewhere, the biggest upset of the night was the 67-64 defeat of Texas Christian by Midwestern of Texas. TCU is the two-time Southwest Conference champion.

Athletic Head Resigns

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A. G. (Barney) Francis, who came from Lancaster High School in 1949 to become athletic director at the University of Toledo, resigned yesterday.

University President Asa A. Knowles said the athletic board would act on the resignation in the near future. Francis said he was leaving to allow Toledo to get a man who would be both head coach and athletic director and would strengthen the athletic program.

Harding and St. Mary Cage Squads in Road Games

Prexies Seek Third Win; Irish Begin Play at Carey

Harding and St. Mary cagers take to the road tonight.

The Prexies go to Willard to seek their third straight, while the Irish are at Carey for their initial action of the season.

Coach Jim Lawler reports that Gene Armstrong has come back after a spell of tonsilitis, putting Harding at near peak strength.

Two footballers, Bob Hamor and Doug Bibler, will be starting for the first time tonight. Hamor, 5-11, and Bibler, 5-7, will be at the forward positions. Bibler is now the team's second high scorer with 21 points in two games.

The rest of Lawler's starting lineup is composed of regulars, Dave Schnelker, 6-2, at center and Don Smith, 5-7, and Ron Conroy, 5-8½, at the guards.

Conroy is Harding's top scorer with 28 points. Schnelker ranks third with 18.

The Prexies shouldn't have too much trouble with Willard, but Lawler feels that the small floor there could possibly cramp Harding's fast-breaking attack.

In its two previous games this season, Harding notched decisive victories over Bexley 61-47 and Galion 72-38.

The Vice Prexies will also be after their third straight. Al Beach will probably start his usual lineup. That's Lowell Carlisle at center, Lowell McFann and Dave Lockwood at the forwards and Harold Jones and Keith Thackery at the guards. However, Paul Bender may work his way into the starting quintet.

St. Mary went through its final pre-season workout yesterday before going into the opener at Carey.

Coach Ray Robbins still isn't sure of his starting lineup. He lists Roger Michell and high-scoring Mike Anderson as definite starters in the guard slots, but who will go in the other positions is still a question.

The double-pivot spots will go to two of three men—Larry Ryan, Jack McNamara and Jack O'Keeffe. The fifth man could be either Jerry Ballenger or Butch Merchant if one of them isn't slowed down too much by the football leg injuries they are both nursing. The fifth man could also be Johnny Messenger, Dick Micheli or Dave Kraft.

Ballenger is having trouble with a severe charley horse and bruised bone he received in the last football game, while Merchant is still taking it easy with the ligament that kept him off the gridiron after the first game.

Pat O'Connor and John Kelly will also dress with the varsity along with reserves Dick Mounts and Gary Howman.

This year St. Mary will use the double-pivot setup on offense, dropping into a man-to-man on defense.

Tuesday night the Irish scrimmaged Meeker, and Robbins reports that the squad was a little ragged in the first half but looked good in the second.

Height will be the big hampering factor for the Irish this year. McNamara, at 6-1, is the only man to hit six-foot or better. Anderson, at 5-11, is probably second in height.

Tonight's game marks the opening of a 20-game season which will find the Irish out trying to better the 11-9 record they posted last year.

After tonight, the Irish travel to Mt. Gilead a week later and then back to Marion on Dec. 15 for their home opener against Fostoria St. Wendelin at the Coliseum.

The Irish reserves also get their first taste of action tonight. Jayvee Coach Danny McGinnis expects to start Mounts at center with Howman and John Smith at the forwards and Jerry Cornely and Bob McMahan in the guard slots.

Edison Junior High Wins Cage Opener

Edison Junior High School's cage crew opened its season Thursday on the home floor with a 40-24 win over Prospect Junior High School.

Coach George Whitehead's squad roared out in front 11-6 in the first quarter and a similar scoring spurt in the second period put the winners ahead 22-12. Edison iced the game in the third period by outscoring the visitors 9-4.

Phil Sykes was the big gun for Edison, pumping in 19 points. Tom Mercer backed him up with nine. Roberts and Remmingler each dropped in nine for the losers.

Edison's net encounter is at Pleasant Tuesday.

Y Tourney Resumes

The YMCA Invitational Basketball Tournament will resume action at 7:30 tonight when Bird McGinnis, a member of the YMCA Independent League, will face the strong Meyers Pumps of Ashland. Marion Industries who have walked over two opponents to date in the tournament will meet the Pythian Drugs of Columbus, now seeking their fifth tournament win in Marion in six years of competition. Both contests are quarter final games. Two other teams making up the quarter final brackets are the Peoples Store of Delaware who dropped the Marion A. C. out of the running Wednesday and Green Camp Elevator who defeated Raymond Wednesday on the same card. Both Green Camp and Peoples are scheduled to appear here on Saturday against the winners of this evening's games.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

The newly-organized YMCA basketball committee, headed by John Mckeever, wasted little time in pulling in the best teams available to begin action on the new YMCA floors.

The pre-season invitational tournament can boast of the strongest teams in Marion as well as two of the state's top independent cage squads.

SHORT

The two, Meyer's Pumps of Ashland and United Athletic Club of Columbus, are in different brackets and are favored to clash in the finals of the tourney. Both are in action tonight, seeking semi-final berths. The Meyers squad will be locking horns with Marion's Bird - McGinnis Legion squad in the opener at 7:30 while UAC takes on Marion Industries in the nightcap.

Most fans are leaning toward the Columbus team to take the title. Sparked by Rollie Harris, former All-Ohio cager at Columbus East, and Ambrose Tower, veteran campaigner in the various Columbus leagues, the team ran roughshod over all opponents last year as the Pythian Drugs.

Meyers Pumps is staffed with Ashland's top cagers as well as former stars from Ashland College and Bowling Green University. Both outfits depend on a fast-breaking attack and on the larger floor at the new Y have been able to operate at full speed.

FELLER STRUCK OUT. Bob Feller, who was speaker at the Little League Awards Night program last Friday night, appeared at the Harding High School auditorium about 15 minutes late. Persons in the crowd labeled the inclement weather as the cause for the delay.

This week, however, the reason came to light. Feller, apparently thinking the meeting was at the YMCA, showed up at the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, just across the street. A revival service was in progress.

Feller walked in sat down near the rear of the building and listened to a musical selection which was part of the service. Suddenly he realized he was in the wrong location and stood up to leave. Ushers recognized the Cleveland Indian hurler just as he left the building.

They reported later he had spent at least five minutes listening to the church music.

Giambra, Herring Meet In Television Feature

NEW YORK (AP)—He ought to be in pictures is what the girls say when either Joey Giambra or Jimmy Herring steps into the ring.

Tonight the gals will get a double thrill when blond Jimmy and dark-haired Joey try to mess each other up in the middleweight main event at Madison Square Garden.

House of David Slated at Green Camp

Touring Pros Will Meet Elevator Squad; Coaches Play

Members of the Green Camp Elevator basketball team are prepping for their encounter Saturday, Dec. 12 with the famed House of David cage crew at the Green Camp High School gym.

The game is being sponsored by the newly-formed Green Camp Lions Club and the same card will feature a game between the Pythian Drugs of Columbus and a team composed of basketball coaches in the Marion County High School League.

The Davids team will feature the same lineup which annually tours the country. During the past 12 years the team has played a total of 2,279 games. Of that number, they have won 2,158. During the period they have dropped only 121 despite having played a 200-game slate each year.

The team, in addition to playing top-flight basketball, is known for its comedy antics. Most famous of the tricks is the hidden ball caper, where the team gathers in a football huddle and the ball disappears.

Bobby Roth leads the stars on the Davids team. He is a former star with professional teams in and around Detroit and prior to that was a collegiate star in Michigan. He is noted as one of the fastest-breaking forwards in the pro ranks.

Holding down the other forward post will be Norm Cox, a 6-5, 215-pound scoring giant. He is a former all-American player while attending college in Texas and went directly into the pro ranks. He has been with the team for six seasons and is its top rebounder.

Moose Gordon will be at center, the newest comer to the Davids roster. Standing an even seven feet, he is called Moose because of his size. He jumped to the House of David immediately after his graduation from high school in Georgia. The team sponsors handed him a five-year contract.

Daniel 'Boone' McDaniel, 6-4 guard, holds down the pivot spot for the touring team. The 200-pounder is a graduate of the University of San Fancisco. His work in the pivot slot has pulled raves from professional coaches all over the country.

Ross Lebeck, 6-1, will hold down the other guard post. He is called a deadly shot from the outside and usually brings the ball down the court. A graduate of the University of Washington, Lebeck plays professional baseball during the summer. Last season he was with Ashville, N. C., in the Tri-State League.

OSU Swim Team To Appear In Exhibitions at YMCA Pool

Mike Peppe, coach of the Ohio State University swimming team, announced yesterday that Dick Cleveland and Morley Shapiro, two nationally-known swimming and diving champions, will appear at the YMCA Leaders Club exhibition Saturday afternoon and evening in the new Y natatorium.

Both Shapiro and Cleveland are NCAA champions in their respective skills of diving and competitive swimming. Shapiro is a national and Olympic springboard champion and with Chandler Harper, another outstanding member of State's diving crew, will demonstrate various dives and techniques during the appearances.

Dick Cleveland and Don Ponapai, a Hawaiian, will demonstrate swimming styles, strokes and racing turns and will swim a handicap race against one of the members of the Y leaders Club.

During the matinee performance at 4:30, the divers will stage a clown act for the younger age audience.

Oliver Bush, adult counselor to the Y Leaders Corps, stated today that tickets may be obtained for both performances at the YMCA desk and although tickets are at a premium they will be available at the door for both exhibitions at 4:30 and 7:30. Only 400 tickets have been printed since the YMCA pool will accommodate only 200 spectators at each performance.

The OSU swimming team is being sponsored by the YMCA Junior Leaders Corps for the purchase of uniforms for wear during their work with younger boys in YMCA Physical Education classes.

Tickets also may be reserved by calling the YMCA desk.

Giants Seeking Upsets Against Browns, Lions

CLEVELAND (AP)—The New York Giants, pro football's most disappointing club this season, could score the National Football League's biggest upset by winning against the Cleveland Browns here Sunday and over the Detroit Lions the following weekend.

The New Yorkers are toying with the idea, their scout, Jack Lavelle, admitted here this week when he said:

"This has been a bad year for us, but the fellows are in the mood to finish up by having a little fun. What more pleasure could they have than beating the league's only unbeaten team this weekend and beating the 1952 champions the next week?"

The Giants started their spoiler role last Sunday by trouncing Philadelphia 37-28. They produced two more touchdowns than in any previous game this season. Had Cleveland missed a last-quarter bid to overtake Chicago's Cardinals, the Giants would have credit for knocking the runner-up Eagles out of the race.

Waldo Team Captures Both Ends of Twinbill

The Waldo Merchants won a basketball doubleheader last night at the Waldo gym, nipping Alloy 50-49 in a hard-fought battle and crushing the Waldo Independents 79-54.

The Merchants won the game from the Marion squad with a last-period rally which enabled them to knot the count with a minute to play. The winning point was scored when Junior Schultz dropped in a free throw with 10 seconds left. Don Schultz was the big gun for the winners with 18 markers. Junior Schultz added 15. Garver and Johnson each with 13 sparked the Alloy drive.

Don McKenzie pumped in 27 markers to lead the attack in the game against the Independents. Frank Jessie was next with 16 and Bill Axline collected 12. Dick Groll netted 19 for the losers while Lowell Thomas hit for 12.

Bowling

Helen Culp rolled 190 and Judy Phelps hit 507 to pace bowlers in the Thursday Afternoon Ladies League at Palace Recreation. The former rolled a 506 series. Three games of over 180 were recorded there. Palace Recreation with 732-2073 sparked the teams.

Stubby Ginder's 231 and Marion McCombs' 588 led keglers in the Industrial League at Marion Recreation. Marion Power Shovel's 896-2566 performance led the teams.

A total of 29 games over 200 were posted in the Classic League with Bill Shipley's 245 high. Harry Jacoby on games of 180, 222 and 226 rolled a 628 series. Don Owens hit 602. Smart & Waddell hit 1009 while Ohio Vapor Chemical carded 2818 for team honors.

Richard Detwiler's 236 and Robert Jacobs' 553 showed the way in Franternal League. B'nai B'rith hit 856 while Moose No. 1 totaled 2395 to pace the teams.

Women bowlers in the Marion Engineer Depot League were paced by Ethel Hicks' 176 and Martha Sidenstricker's 418. Lawrence Leser's 231 and Robert Harty's 534 were tops among the men. Other 200 games were rolled by Harty, 218, and Ken Thome Jr., 227. Team honors were copped by Whirlwinds on an 811-2298 performance.

Stuffed With Roast Platitudes

The excess of sentimentality that envelops Thanksgiving — well, it rises like a miasma from a swamp right through New Year's Day—drives me into a fit of misanthropy that lasts till Easter.

J. CROSBY

Already it's started and it's going to get worse. Batten down the hatches. Or just shut the darn thing off and go see "How To Marry a Millionaire" in Cinemascope, a decently cynical essay on gold-digging. If you're of a sceptical nature about people as I am, the dramas that are inflicted on us around Christmas time will drive you quite properly to strong drink.

-:-

IF YOU were unfortunate enough to have turned to Campbell Sound Stage the other night, you would have seen a little confection called —so help me—"Home Is Where Love Is," a title that should have driven me out of the house without further ado.

This is one about a wife who lives on Third avenue and dreams of having a home of her own. "Living in a Park avenue penthouse isn't always a guarantee of happiness," says her husband—a line that will be etched in my memory forever more.

Well, sir, they take over—quite illegally—the country home of a rich lady temporarily absent in Florida. Of course, the rich dame comes back unexpectedly which leads to some more rich beautiful dialogue.

SAYS THE RICH DAME—I had to sit through this so I don't know why you should be spared—"I have three houses—in Palm Beach, Connecticut and Park Avenue — but there is no architect or builder in the world who can put love in a house." (Lady, you got the wrong architect. They got houses now with hot and cold running love in every room, television in the ceilings and radiant heating in the cellars.)

"Now," said the young lady from Third avenue, "I realize I've always had a home— because wherever Tim is, I'm home." (I wonder if Tim ever took this babe to Yankee Stadium. If she can feel at home there, she's more gifted at self-delusion than anyone in my experience.)

This particular drama ground to a denouement with everyone, rich and poor alike, sitting down to Thanksgiving dinner—turkey stuffed with roast platitudes. There wasn't a dry eye in the house. Except mine.

THIS IS THE SORT of thing we're in for from now on.

It's a great period for child actors, the little so-and-sos, lifting up their limpid, well-mascaraed eyes and murmuring: "Please, mister, my little sister Penelope has lobar pneumonia and all the noise from your lavish, drunken party is giving her a headache."

So they invite the little urchin in, ply him with turkey and when he gets back his sister's temperature has fallen from 112 to normal and she's peacefully asleep, smiling.

Then there's the one about the old curmudgeon who is wheedled into benevolence by the sound of the bells or, maybe the sight of a small innocent child — otherwise known as Little Lord Fauntleroy in modern dress. This one was on "Playhouse of Stars" the other night. A nasty, selfish old captain of industry who had lived for himself alone all these years was struck blind. Psychosomatic, you know.

WELL, THIS LITTLE GIRL leads him around by the hand—"you got lots of books, mister, but I only got one book—and seven marbles." And she reads from her one book the story of the three bears. It puts him to sleep—it almost put me to sleep, too—and when he wakes up, he can see again. (No, sir, I did NOT make that up. I seen it on television with my own two incredulous eyes.)

Well, happy holidays, everyone After you get this crying jag out of your system, you'll find me at the corner saloon, watching the wrestling.
